DEATH TAKES THREE DURING PAST WEEK

Eli Heater passed away Thursday morning, June 22 at the home of his son, Chas. Heater. He was born at Unionapolis, Ohio, November 11, 1859 and was 74 years of age. He is survived by two sons, Charles and Ed Heater, and one daughter, Mrs Emma Furlong of Rochester, Washington. Mrs heater preceded him in death two years ago. Funeral arrangements have not been made as yet.

Mr Heater had been a resident of Milton for many years during which time he has been engaged in construction work, being a stonemason. His death is a severe shock to his many friends because of its suddenness. Although he had been in poor health recently, he was able to be up. He ate breakfast Thursday morning and afterwards laid down on the couch. Arising soon afterward he was stricken and died almost immediately.

Unknown Newspaper, June 22, 1933(DATE Penciled in)

MILTON PIONEER OF 1894 SUFFERS STROKE: LIVED INDUSTRIOUS BUSY LIFE

Eli Heater, a citizen of Milton since 1894, died at the home of his son, Ed Heater , in North Milton on Thursday morning, June 22, from a stroke of apoplexy after an illness of but a few minutes. Mr Heater had been in poor health for several months.

Eli Heater was born at Unionopolis, Ohio, November 11, 1859. On November 4, 1879, he was married to Mary L. Ritter. Of this union five children were born, three surviving their father, Charles and Edward of Milton, and Emma Furlong of Rochester, Wash., four grandchildren and three great grandchildren and two sisters: Mrs Mary Mull of Tenino, Wash. and Mrs. Anna Weaver of Wilkensen, Wash., Also survived the deceased. Mrs Heater died in 1830.

In the year 1894 on May 6, the Heater family started west by wagon team from Kansas. They arrived in Milton, August 15 of the same year and pitched their camp on the banks of the Walla Walla River within 300 yards of their home site they selected and on which they lived continuously since that time.

Mr Heater lived an industrious life in this community and had many friends. At one time he was a member of the Woodmen of World. Funeral arrangements await the arrival of Mrs Furlong on Friday morning. Interment will be made in the I.O.O.F. cemetery, Milton.

***NOTE: I never noticed that each paper listed he died in the home of a different son?

Jury Finds Death Due To Natural Causes

Charles Henry Heater died suddenly Sunday, shortly after midnight, as the result of a coronary attack, was the finding Tuesday of a coronor's jury called to consider the case. The attack apparently was brought on by excitement caused by a scuffle just previously, with a young woman.

The whole thing started, according to evidence presented at the inquest, held Tuesday at the Milton library, when a group composed of Mr. and Mrs. Joe McKessick, Harold Peterson, Ed Mehan and Miss Sylvia Land, returned from the dance just concluded at the community building. Peterson, driving McKessick's car, stopped at the McKessick residence at Union and Main streets. Mehan and Miss Land left, taking a cab to a restaurant for a late supper.

While Peterson and McKessick were standing talking, according to their testimony, Mrs Marian McKessick suddenly drove off with the car before they could stop her, running into the fence on the J. J. Howard property on the next corner. The men hastily ran over there and Mr. and Mrs. Howard came out to see about the disturbance. McKessick backed the car out from the fence and in the meantime Mrs McKessick had walked off down the street, with Peterson attempting to keep her nearby. She, however, went down the street to the Grove school lawn and disappeared. McKessick, it was testified had gone with the car by then, and Peterson and Howard got into Howard's car to go after the police and to try to find Mrs. McKessick. In the meantime Heater had heard the noise and came out from his home across the street to talk to Mrs. Howard who was still at the scene. Mrs McKessick then returned. Heater went to talk to her, with the result, according to Mrs. Howard, that an altercation began, with Mrs. McKessick apparently striking at Heater and he, in turn, attempting to fend her off and backing toward Mrs. Howard.

Heater had gotten away from Mrs. McKessick and was talking to Mrs. Howard. when he suddenly fell over, striking his head hard on the cement sidewalk. According to testimony, however, death was probably due to a heart attack, and not to the wound on the back of his head. The inquest was called because of the rather muddled circumstances surrounding Heater's death, and the verdict was rendered that the death was due to natural causes.

Testimony indicated that the party had been drinking to some extent, and Mrs. McKessick, on the witness stand, testified that she remembered very little that had happened after the dance, due to being too highly intoxicated.

Following the inquest, Mrs. McKessick was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Retta Bailey on a charge of drunk and disorderly, pleaded guilty, and was fined $25.00 and costs.

Justice of the Peace Bailey presided at the inquest. Assistant prosecuting attorney George Corey represented the county.

Heater was born February 18, 1884, in Kansas, and had lived here nearly 50 of his 62 years. He had been employed as an electrician by Milton City for the past 36 years, and as a testimony of his faithfulness to duty had not missed a shift in the past seven years.

Surviving him are his widow, Mrs. Maude Heater; two step children, Leslie Drake of Olympia, Wash., and Mrs. Theora Capplen, Seattle; a sister, Mrs Emma Furlong, Rochester, Wn., and a brother, Ed Heater, McLary, Wash.

Funeral services were held this (Thursday) afternoon at the Munselle chapel in Milton. Rev A. J. Neufeld officiated and interment was in the Milton I.O.O.F. cemetery.

Jury Finds Death Due To Natural Causes

Charles Henry Heater died suddenly Sunday, shortly after midnight, as the result of a coronary attack, was the finding Tuesday of a coronor's jury called to consider the case. The attack apparently was brought on by excitement caused by a scuffle just previously, with a young woman.

The whole thing started, according to evidence presented at the inquest, held Tuesday at the Milton library, when a group composed of Mr. and Mrs. Joe McKessick, Harold Peterson, Ed Mehan and Miss Sylvia Land, returned from the dance just concluded at the community building. Peterson, driving McKessick's car, stopped at the McKessick residence at Union and Main streets. Mehan and Miss Land left, taking a cab to a restaurant for a late supper.

While Peterson and McKessick were standing talking, according to their testimony, Mrs Marian McKessick suddenly drove off with the car before they could stop her, running into the fence on the J. J. Howard property on the next corner. The men hastily ran over there and Mr. and Mrs. Howard came out to see about the disturbance. McKessick backed the car out from the fence and in the meantime Mrs McKessick had walked off down the street, with Peterson attempting to keep her nearby. She, however, went down the street to the Grove school lawn and disappeared. McKessick, it was testified had gone with the car by then, and Peterson and Howard got into Howard's car to go after the police and to try to find Mrs. McKessick. In the meantime Heater had heard the noise and came out from his home across the street to talk to Mrs. Howard who was still at the scene. Mrs McKessick then returned. Heater went to talk to her, with the result, according to Mrs. Howard, that an altercation began, with Mrs. McKessick apparently striking at Heater and he, in turn, attempting to fend her off and backing toward Mrs. Howard.

Heater had gotten away from Mrs. McKessick and was talking to Mrs. Howard. when he suddenly fell over, striking his head hard on the cement sidewalk. According to testimony, however, death was probably due to a heart attack, and not to the wound on the back of his head. The inquest was called because of the rather muddled circumstances surrounding Heater's death, and the verdict was rendered that the death was due to natural causes.

Testimony indicated that the party had been drinking to some extent, and Mrs. McKessick, on the witness stand, testified that she remembered very little that had happened after the dance, due to being too highly intoxicated.

Following the inquest, Mrs. McKessick was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Retta Bailey on a charge of drunk and disorderly, pleaded guilty, and was fined $25.00 and costs.

Justice of the Peace Bailey presided at the inquest. Assistant prosecuting attorney George Corey represented the county.

Heater was born February 18, 1884, in Kansas, and had lived here nearly 50 of his 62 years. He had been employed as an electrician by Milton City for the past 36 years, and as a testimony of his faithfulness to duty had not missed a shift in the past seven years.

Surviving him are his widow, Mrs. Maude Heater; two step children, Leslie Drake of Olympia, Wash., and Mrs. Theora Capplen, Seattle; a sister, Mrs Emma Furlong, Rochester, Wn., and a brother, Ed Heater, McLary, Wash.

Funeral services were held this (Thursday) afternoon at the Munselle chapel in Milton. Rev A. J. Neufeld officiated and interment was in the Milton I.O.O.F. cemetery.

The Milton City offices were closed during the funeral. Pallbearers, at the request of Mrs. Heater, included Claude Brower, Leonard Sample, Martin Wilkening, A. E. Courtney, Bill Hook and Clarence Torgerson, all city employees.

56 MORE LOCAL BOYS REPORT NEXT WEEK

COUNTY TO SEND SECOND CONTINGENT FOR NATIONAL ARMY WEDNESDAY

Fifty-six more of Thurston countys registered men are scheduled to go to Camp Lewis, American lake, next Wednesday, the countys second contribution to the new national army under the first call issued by President Wilson.

And under a positive order received from Provost Marshal General Crowder Wednesday, these men must report in the order of their liability for service, the local board henceforth being prohibited from accepting volunteers out of their order in the draft call, as was permitted when the first contingent of seven were sent to the mobilization camp last Saturday.

The ruling says that "a registrant whose order of liability is not within the quota of a local board cannot even on his own request be advanced and sent with the quota, " while those within the quota must report in the order in which their numbers were drawn.

Because of incomplete reports from the district board at Tacoma, the local board was not able to announce this week the names of the 56 who would be ordered to report next Wednesday. Sheriff Jack GIFFORD, chairman of the board, and Deputy Auditor Will GASTON, who has assisted in its clerical work, went over to Tacoma Thursday for a conference with the district board, to get a certified list of those among the first 475 called who are held for military service.

Two hundred and twenty-seven of the 525 registrants examined last week filed claims for exemption on dependency grounds. All of the married men among them are being exempted by the local board, under the presidents ruling, but the claims of a number of others who asserted they were supporting dependents are being rejected, in cases where

Notes for MARTHA DOUGHERTY:

Ed Lintz as I remarked before was the young man grandma Weaver wanted Aunt Martha to marry. She went with him a couple of months and decided he was not for her. She said she promised to wait for someone else. Then ended up marring Ed Doolittle instead. Ed Died 2/24/1920 and is buried in the Milton-Freewater Cemetery. He had gone to help out his Mother with his siblings because they were so ill with a flu. Apparently it turned into pneumonia, he got it and died within a week. He mother in law sent Aunt Martha a letter and said if you want to see him you had better get here quick. He died shortly after her arrival. Then her mother in law told her to pack up her brats and leave. Nice lady, huh?

I will post the names of the people I got from Aunt Martha later. Well got to run, have to go help my kids at school.

Notes for MARTHA DOUGHERTY:

Ed Lintz as I remarked before was the young man grandma Weaver wanted Aunt Martha to marry. She went with him a couple of months and decided he was not for her. She said she promised to wait for someone else. Then ended up marring Ed Doolittle instead. Ed Died 2/24/1920 and is buried in the Milton-Freewater Cemetery. He had gone to help out his Mother with his siblings because they were so ill with a flu. Apparently it turned into pneumonia, he got it and died within a week. He mother in law sent Aunt Martha a letter and said if you want to see him you had better get here quick. He died shortly after her arrival. Then her mother in law told her to pack up her brats and leave. Nice lady, huh?

I will post the names of the people I got from Aunt Martha later. Well got to run, have to go help my kids at school.

DECEMBER 24, 1914 No. 30

Found Dead in Bed.

Mrs Louis Heater, for sometime a resident in Bow Creek township, was found dead in her bed one morning last week by her eight year old son, her husband being absent from home. A coroner's inquest was held over the body and after careful investigation returned a verdict showing the death was the result of a heart disease. A very pitiable story comes to us of her death. Mr Heater and six children , the oldest being eight years of age and the youngest ten months, were home alone. On the evening before her death, she was not feeling well and according to the little son's evidence he had prepare and given her some medicine just before he retired. Along in the night he heard the baby crying and knowing of his mother's illness went to the bed and took the baby to bed with him. When morning came he got up and called to his mother, getting no response he went to her bedside and tried to rouse her. Getting no response he dressed the other children and loading the three smaller ones in a hand cart the six started out for their grandparents several miles away. Thus they went until the George Haynes home was reached where Mrs Haynes seeing them thought something must be wrong to force six as little fellows as they were out in the cold so early in the morning. so she stopped them to inquire the cause. The oldest told her his mama was asleep and he could not wake her. A telephone message sent Charley Haynes, the nearest neighbor, to the home where he found the mother of the little tots cold in that sleep from which there is no waking, death having come during the night, presumably earlier than when the baby cried. In making the trip the little fellows did they must have suffered terribly from the cold and we were told that one little girl's feet were frosted while another's fingers frozen.
