HURLEY, Charles B., papers. .2 l.f. Abstract: Charles B. Hurley (1861-19-- ) was a civil engineer who worked for the Mexican National Construction Company (Compania Constructora Nacional Mexicana) on the Ferrocarril de Manzanillo y Laredo branch, 1881-1884. Biography: Charles B. Hurley received his engineering degree from the University of Pennsylvania in 1878. In 1880 he found employment with the Northern Pacific Railroad, then building westward through Northern Dakota and Montana. From there he went to work for the Mexican National Construction Company on the Ferrocarril de Manzanillo y Laredo branch, 1881-1884. Between 1884 and 1886 he worked in various engineering capacities for the New Jersey Central and Baltimore and Ohio railroads. He served as vice president and general manager of the Pennsylvania Natural Gas Company, 1886-1888. In 1888 he went to Tacoma, WA as general manager for the Tacoma Light and Water Company. Finally, in 1904, he organized the Hurley-Mason Company, which conducted a general contracting business throughout the Pacific Northwest. The firm was responsible for the construction of several large business buildings. Scope and content: The papers include eleven letters (some in Spanish), (1881-1883) regarding the engineering and construction of the Ferrocarril de Manzanillo y Laredo branch, and Hurley's scrapbook (1881-1885), also relating to the project. It contains mainly ephemera documenting activities along the rail line, and includes death announcements, dance programs, poetry, a series of chromolithographs illustrating bull fighting, a menu from the Palmer House in Chicago for a dinner commemorating U.S. Grant's death (9 August 1885), and a letter of recommendation for Hurley to General U.S. Grant from John Russell Young (29 March 1881). Four watercolors, apparently executed by Hurley, have been transferred to the WSHS art collection. Two are of the Hurley survey camp and two are of native women making tortillas. Five large scrapbooks of clippings relating to Hurley's interest in Republican politics, the Spanish-American War, and the controversy surrounding the sale of Tacoma Light and Water to the city of Tacoma, have been transferred to the scrapbook collection. Inclusive dates: 1881-1885 Restrictions: None (scrapbook is fragile) Volume: 1 vol., 11 letters Accession number: 1952.55.3

NEWEST CENTURY FARM DESIGNEES ANNOUNCED

At an annual awards ceremony at the Oregon State Fair, families from 14 farms and ranches will receive recognition as a Century Farm or Century Ranch. The 2006 ceremony will be held at 3 p.m. Sept. 2 in the Jackman-Long Building on the Oregon State Fairgrounds in Salem. The public is invited to join the Oregon Agricultural Education Foundation and its major partners, the Oregon Farm Bureau, the Oregon State Historic Preservation Office, the Oregon Historical Society and the Oregon Department of Agriculture, for this event.

Four ranches and nine farms from eight counties will be honored this year, bringing the total number of Oregon Century Farms and Ranches to 1,069. The ranch families being acknowledged in 2006 are: Agnes Doherty, Umatilla County; Boyd & Sheree Follett, Union County; Wayne Morin, Baker County; and, Donell J. & Mary F. Smock, Umatilla County. The farm families being honored are: Larry & Paula Bangs, Lane County; Vernon Bruck, Clackamas County; Lila & Jim Elliott, Clackamas County; John H. & Patricia McGhehey, Yamhill County; Robert Mahaffy, Mahaffy Tree Farm, Inc., Coos County; Wilbur A. Olson, Clackamas County; Fay Samuel (Sam) Pambrun, Jr., Umatilla County; Barbara F. Skinner & Carol A. Fery, Linn County; Stephen Unger, Unger Enterprises, Washington County; and, Irv, Joan & Edith Wettlaufer, Clackamas County.

The Oregon Century Farm & Ranch Program began in 1958 to honor farm and ranch families with century-long connections to the land. In the course of its 48-year history, the program has honored these families by recognizing their perseverance in the ever-changing challenge of supplying food and other farm products to the state, the nation and the world, as well as their commitment to farming and ranching, a reflection of Oregon's rich agricultural heritage. To attain the century farm or ranch designation, a family must follow a formal application process. A seven-member Advisory Board reviews each application against the qualifications, which include continuous family operation of the farm or ranch; a gross income from farm use of not less than $1,000 per year for at least three years out of five prior to application; and family members must live on or actively manage the farm or ranch activities. The completed applications are forwarded to the Oregon Historical Society Library and are available to researchers and other library users. To mark the award of the century farm or ranch status, each family receives a certificate with acknowledgment by Governor Ted Kulongoski and Katy Coba, the director of the Oregon Department of Agriculture. A metal roadside sign denoting century status, the name of the farm or ranch, and the year established also is made available to each family.

The 2006 award ceremony is made possible, in part, by contributions from Roth's Family Markets, the Hazelnut Marketing Board, the Oregon Wheat Growers League and the Tillamook County Creamery Association. Other supporters include Linn-Benton Women for Agriculture, Deschutes County Farm Bureau, Polk County Farm Bureau, Marion County Farm Bureau, Tillamook County Farm Bureau, and many individual donors.

Comments Hello, I am a McKelvey descendent, and I do not see any of my ancestors on your family tree pages. I am excited that I might be able to add something or connect to the McKelvey tree. My great grandmother was Florastiene Marie Ford, of mixed blood ancestry, mostly French Canadian (metis?) in Montana. She married John McKelvey in Montana. John McKelvey was the son of Charles Fremont McKelvey and Cecelia Pambrun. (Florastiene was born on 18 February 1886 in Augusta, Montana.) I have no further background on John McKelvey and would love to find out anything! Note: John McKelvey and Florastiene divorced (they had several children, one of whom was my grandmother). John changed his name to Jack McAllister and moved to Idaho. Sincerely, Marcia Simpson

You are right about John Baptiste being a son of Thomas Pambrun. It goes Pierre Chrysologue Pambrun married to Katherine Hortense Humphreville. Sons Pierre C, Jr., Thomas, Andre or Andrew and Alexander.

Thomas Pambrun was the father of John Baptiste Pambrun [mother Shoshone] and Francis Pambrun [mother also Shoshone]. John Baptiste Pambrun married Catherine Malaterre. Their daughter Catherine Rose Pambrun married to Alfred Ameline who were the parents of Dolly Lily Ameline married to Lawrence Carrier. Lawrence and Dolly are my parents.

Alaxander also had a son named John. Pierre or Peter also had a son John and one named Frank.
