Notes for ROBERT P WILMOT:

HISTORY OF OREGON

An illustrated history of the state of Oregon : containing a history of Oregon from the earliest period of its discovery to the, page 927-928

ROBERT P. WILMOT, a venerable Oregon pioneer, of 1850, now residing at Beaverton, was born in Allen County, Kentucky, March 27, 1814. His parents were Richard and Ellen (Robertson) Wilmot, natives respectively of Maryland and Virginia. After their marriage they resided in Allen County, Kentucky, where they reared their family of nine children, only two whom – Robert P. and a sister – are now living.

Mr. Wilmot was reared in Kentucky, and there, in 1836, married Miss Nancy Stone, a native of that state, born in 1817. In the fall after their marriage they removed to Missouri, where he was engaged in farming fourteen years, and where seven children were born to them, two of whom died. With his wife and five children, he crossed the plains to Oregon in 1850, making the journey with oxen. Two brothers of Mr. Wilmot came with him. On various occasions the Indians were quite troublesome, and at one time they stole a fine brood mare from Mr. Wilmot. At Green river his wife was taken with cholera in the evening and in the morning she died. They buried her by the wayside and continued their sad journey. Her sudden illness and death at this time was a source of great bereavement to him and his family.

After they arrived in Oregon, Mr. Wilmot settled on the Columbia slough, took a donation claim of 820 acres, and in 1851 he married Mrs. Nancy J. McCay. She was a native of Madison county, Indiana, and a daughter of John Hicks. She had one daughter whom they reared and who is now Mrs. Jennie Burbank. Mr. and Mrs. Wilmot resided at the farm at the slough, eighteen years, and in 1868 he came to Beaverton and purchased ninety-five acres of land. On this property he erected buildings and made other improvements, and resided here several years. Then he purchased property in Beaverton, and has since bought and sold considerable real estate. He and his good wife are now spending the evening of their lives in a comfortable home in Beaverton.

The loss of their three beautiful and much loved daughters, Sarah, Catherine, Emily Adeline, and Verony, the only children by his second marriage, cast a gloom over their home. Both Mr. and Mrs. Wilmot are Methodists, and he is a Trustee of the church. Previous to the war he was a democrat, but ever since the firing on Fort Sumter, he has been identified with the Republican Party. During the war he was a strong Union man and two of his sons, Richard and Robert, enlisted in a home company to keep down secession in Oregon. Mr. Wilmot has ever been a strong temperance man. He is a member of the Good Templars and also of the Grange. He was twice elected to office, but never qualified, showing that he had no desire for office. His sons are engaged in farming, and his daughter is married and settled in life. They are as follows: James D., at Beaverton; Richard, near Oswego; Robert and William, near Douglas, on Willow Creek; Ellen, wife of Dwight Phelps, Milton, Umatilla County.

Mr. Wilmot is now in his seventy-ninth year. He is one of the few brave Oregon pioneers of 1850, who still live to tell of the hardships and trials they endured in those early days.

Oregon gained many new residents in 1850. The territory was becoming better known in the east, since the gold rush to California had created an active market for agricultural product and the Willamette Valley afforded as almost limitless opportunity for production of the staples the gold miners needed. Price was no object in the gold camps and the Oregon pioneers, chiefly agriculturists, were coming in increasing numbers.

The following list of the immigration of 1850 to Oregon is from the archives of the Oregon Historical Society and, although not complete, includes most of those who came that year.

Wilmot, Robert P.

Wilmot, Mrs Nancy (stone)

Additional note: The names were copied in the order they appear in the newspaper article and are not necessarily in alphabetical order. Also, the compiler's copy of this paper had taped crease marks which obliterated some of the names. If there is access to the original article, additions and corrections will be appreciated.

7. ELEANOR A.³ WILMOT (*ROBERT P*², *RICHARD*¹) was born Feb 1850 in Missouri, and died 29 Jul 1919 in Portland, Multnomah, OR³¹. She married (1) ? HUBBELL. He was born in Missouri. She married (2) ROBERTRIGHT FRAZIER Abt. 1875, son of WILLIAM FRAZIER and RACHEL WILLIAMS. He was born 26 Sep 1851 in Tennessee, and died 28 Apr 1879 in Oregon. She married (3) DWIGHT J PHELPS 02 Jul 1882 in Umatilla, Oregon³². He was born Feb 1852 in Pennsylvania, and died 03 Jan 1904 in Marion, Oregon³³.

Notes for ELEANOR A. WILMOT:

=====

Robert Right Frazier married Ella W. Hubbell. This information came from 'THE FRAZIER REUNION BOOK - 1995'. It also states that very little is known about Robert as he died so young.

However, he did go to Portland after high school to study bookkeeping. As he married between 1870 at 19 years and 1877 when his first child, Katie, was born, he probably met her in Portland and married there?

They returned to Milton by 1878, when Robert Elmo, was born, and he died in 1879.

In 1880, Ella (Eleanor) still lived in Milton and showed as a teacher in the census.

Two years later, in 1882, she meets and marries Dwight Phelps and in 1883, daughter Marie is born.

The are still in Milton for the 1900 census with Marie and Robert Elmo still living with them.

Dwight dies and she moves back to Portland to die in 1919.
