FRANK MCGIRR

Mr. McGirr's father was a native of Ireland and came to the United States when a lad of thirteen, locating in Missouri, where later he married Miss Elizabeth Haskins and they became the parents of five children, four of them being in Grant county, and the other is deceased. In 1852 the family came across the plains and experienced much trouble with the Indians enroute, losing one man and nearly fifty head of stock in the many battles that occurred on the Humboldt river. They settled near Stockton, California, and later moved to Nevada, where the father died, and in 1899 the mother died in this county. Referring more particularly to Mr. Frank McGirr, the subject of this sketch, we may say that his birth occurred in Stockton, California, on January 23, 1860, but while still a child he went with his parents to Austin, Nevada, where he was raised on a farm and in giving attention to the herds his father owned. Here also he received his education in the public schools. At an early age he commenced the life of the cowboy and rode for several years in Nevada. It was in 1879 that he came to the north in company with thirty-five others who were detailed to bring ten thousand head of cattle from Sterns mountain to Wyoming for a Mr. Davis. The cattle were divided into three bands, and twelve men were the number with each band. Before completing the journey Mr. McGirr resigned his place and came through Fox valley enroute to Walla Walla. In the following spring he returned to this place and took up a pre-emption and then a homestead, where he now lives, at Fox postoffice. He has added until his estate is nearly twelve hundred acres, and it is all fenced and improved. He gives his attention to farming and raising stock and also to buying and selling, being one of the heaviest dealers in this section. He has some very fine specimens of throughbred cattle and takes a great interest in improving the stock throughout the valley.

The marriage of Mr. McGirr and Miss Henrietta, daughter of Harice and Marguerite Hart, late of Prescott, Washington, was consummated on March 21, 1880, and to this happy union there have been born the following children: Rhoda E., deceased; Nora May, deceased; Albert; Frank B.; Ettie E.; Nellie M.; Cash E., deceased; Bertha N.; and Mabel Irene. In addition to the stock ranch Mr. McGirr owns a fine home in John Day, where the family reside during the school season, that the children may have the advantage of the better schools. It is of note that Mr. McGirr was the first man to bring a family into the valley and since his settlement here he has been a power for the advancement of all that is for the welfare of the people and interests of the community. At the present writing he is feeding two hundred young steers on the John Day and is one of the leading stockmen of this entire region.

A Heap of Living Went into 80 Years

When friends and neighbors of Mrs. W.S. (Nellie) Caverhill helped her mark the 80th milestone of her busy, highly useful life recently at Milton-Freewater, it was to mark the milestone for a woman of today who has lived the life of a pioneer mother and wife.

For, Mrs. Caverhill lived pretty much as did pioneer settlers of the Northwest as she made a home for her family doing much of the "proving up" of a homestead while her husband taught school, usually at some distance from the home.

Mrs. Caverhill's heritage traces back to the first white people to come to the Oregon country. Her mother was Henrietta Hart, a daughter of Horace and Marguerite Hart of Prescott. Hart was a brother of Eliza Spalding, wife of Rev. H.H. Spalding, the contemporary of the Whitmans. Horace Hart was the only brother of Mrs. Spalding that she saw after she came west, Mrs. Caverhill told me.

Her father, Frank McGirr, was the first white man to settle in Fox Valley; he had an imposing (for then) herd of some 200 cattle and owned 1200 acres of land. All the nine children in the family were born and raised there and the family house, a huge, two-story frame building at entrance to the hamlet of Fox, Ore., still is the residence of a brother of Mrs. Caverhill, Frank McGirr. Her brother still runs a sizable herd of beef cattle, doing most of the chores required, only occasionally hiring help to aid him.

Mrs. Caverhill was born there in 1890. Her schooling, as it was for rural areas of the time, consisted of three months in the summer at the Fox school.

"After the boys (her brothers) got older," Mrs. Caverhill recalled, "Mother and us children moved to John Day to go to school. This was 1903. Father stayed at the ranch."

It was while she was a pupil at the old Fox School that she met her husband, who was the teacher there in the one room building. That was 1905. In 1906 the couple were married and last month (September 1) they marked their 64th wedding anniversary.

Tackled Big Job

Marriage at such an early age was not uncommon in those days.

Taking on the work of raising a family and running a homestead was also something some young women did in those days. Mrs. Caverhill's lot was just this, but despite young of age and small of frame, she tackled the job and put forth a yeoman effort, as further lines will reveal.

Personality Profile

The Caverhills have had but two children of their own but Mrs. Caverhill figured they'd raised about 30 others over the many years, up to the past three years at least. "We've always had somebody in, it seemed, who was going to school or boarding with us for one reason or another."

Took up Homestead

A few years after their marriage, the Caverhills took up a homestead claim on Pine Creek, located between Ritter and Long Creek. Her husband was teaching school at Long Creek then, a nine mile walk for him each weekend.

It was at this point, when she was to have to stay at the homestead all alone with two small children, that Mrs. Caverhill put her small foot down.

"I just plain vowed I wasn't going to stay out there alone without some protection," she said.

To gain that protection, Mrs. Caverhill got a rifle, spent many hours practicing with it, then felt she had "that extra something. . . protection" she felt needed to cope with the homestead "elements."

Some small help in the matter of household operating expenses came with the establishment of the post office at the Caverhill ranch in 1912. Mrs. Caverhill was duly appointed the postmaster of the new office to serve the area's 15 families. An addition was made to their house for the office but until it was completed, the postal affairs went through the smokehouse.

Mail came twice a day via horse drawn stagecoach and when the muddy roads would delay the stage's arrival (as it often did) Mrs. Caverhill would have to wait up, often till midnight for it to get there with the mail.

Raised a Garden

Mrs. Caverhill raised a big garden each summer and when she had to be away from the house to care for it, she'd get help at the post office from one of the neighbors. The post office was useful for the area farmers because it was a case of their either walking the nine miles to Long Creek or six miles to Ritter.

The garden's produce was primarily to feed the family but chickens were also raised and these and their eggs sold, as was milk from a cow. . . milked by Mrs. Caverhill as a rule.

Homesteading days at the turn of the century were days of sharing with your neighbor and Mrs. Caverhill certainly lived up to this tradition of the pioneer. Often she was called upon to act as nurse for a family with an ailing member. A unique task of hers was to "sit up with the dead when somebody passed away. . . until the undertaker could come for the body. . . it didn't seem right to leave the body alone . . . somebody always sat with it," she recalled.

Mrs. Caverhill helped out when harvest time came, cooking meals for a neighbor. Usually women on about four or five ranches would go together, she said, and cook meals where ever the threshing operation was.

Of course, after helping out a the neighbors' she had to get on home and take care of her own family!

The Caverhill home was always the place the school teacher at nearby Pine Creek school (about 1 ½ miles distance) would board for the term. "It wasn't necessarily the closest home," she said, "but the only one that wanted to bother."

Party Line a Favorite

Most families had a telephone and the party line was a favorite form of amusement as well as useful in emergencies.

"one long ring," said Mrs. Caverhill, "meant 'Everybody Listen!' If there was trouble, the one long ring was used."

Long winter evenings saw the party line used as a source of entertainment for the ranch families before the advent of radio.

"When somebody got a new phonograph record, they'd ring the long ring and let everybody hear it. . . or, fiddlers would play or a group would sing while somebody accompanied on a piano or the organ.

A Long, Lone Ride

Once this matter of being a nurse required a long horseback ride which would have taxed any of the men of her time.

Her sister was ill lat her home in Mt. Vernon, some 45 miles away. Mrs Caverhill left home about 9 a.m. and rode to Fox where another horse was supposed to be ready for her.

"It wasn't there so I just got back on my horse and rode on," she said. It was springtime and roads were pretty muddy. She arrived at her destination around midnight.

Skinning Demonstration.

One time, still smarting over how her brothers had been "kidding" her about her marksmanship with the rifle, Mrs. Caverhill came across a badger one morning as she went to milk the cow. She shot and killed it (to prove to her brothers she could do it), then had to skin the animal to back up her contention. She had no knife, other than the kitchen butcher knife, but performed the task with it and thus silenced her brothers.

In the fall of 1922, the family packed up and moved north to Milton-Freewater in order that their daughter (Mrs. Raymond (Lulu) Meengs of Ukiah) could attend high school there, there being none in Long Creek at that time.

Mrs Caverhill continued a busy life here and has been active in the Christian church and lodge work. She is a member of Eastern Star and Pythian Sisters. She had taught Sunday school at Pine Creek and continued to do that after coming to Milton-Freewater.

At 60 Mrs. Caverhill helped shingle the house; at 75 she caught a limit of trout and beat her husband fishing that day. Fishing was something she had often enjoyed doing with her mother on the old ranch at Fox. The two would fashion rods of willow branches, use fish line and hook and bait with worms, grasshoppers or periwinkles and fish while the haying crews were busy.

At 80, most people can look back onto many years of an interesting life.

Not much was left out of the pioneer life and livelihood experienced by Mrs. Caverhill.

Marriage Notes for NELLIE MCGIRR and WALTER CAVERHILL:

Walla Walla Union Bulletin (Walla Walla, Washington) > 1956 > September > 9, page 31

Half Century Together

Mr and Mrs. W. S. Caverhill, longtime residents of the Milton-Freewater area and prior to that of Grant County, have been observing their 50th wedding anniversary in appropriate fashion.

A Family reunion at Battle Mountain State Park, south of Pendleton, on Saturday, Sept 1, was the first official recognition of the anniversary.

A Reception Friday evening, Sept. 7, in the knights of Pythias Hall in neighboring Milton-Freewater was arranged in their honor by the Knights of Pythias and the Pythian Sisters with which the honorees are affiliated. Caverhill, in fact, has been a lodge member for close to 50 years.

Wed in Grant Co.

The wedding half a century ago was solemnized in the little community of Fox, Ore., in Grant County at the bride's home. She was Nellie L. McGirr. Both the Caverhill and McGirr families were pioneer settlers in the John Day country.

Thirty-three years ago, the Caverhills moved to Umatilla County and Caverhill taught school for two years at Dry Creek and nine years at Ferndale.

He served as councilman for four years and a similar period as mayor of Milton before the consolidation of the two towns.

He's Writer

Caverhill has long been interested in writing and his homespun philosophy and tales of earlier days have gained him a wide reading audience. He regularly contributes a column, "Cal Tuller," to the East Oregonian, writes for the Pilot Rock paper and has had several books published, including "Road South," and a volume of poetry.

The Caverhills belong to the Christian Church.

Their immediate family includes a daughter, Mrs. Ray Meengs of Ukiah, and a Son, Frank Caverhill of Milton-Freewater, and three grandchildren, Raymond and Donald Meengs and Irene Caverhill.

Walla Walla Union Bulletin (Walla Walla, Washington) > 1966 > August > 26, page 3

Anniversary Celebrated

Honored Aug. 20 at a reception celebrating their 60th wedding anniversary were Mr. and Mrs. W. Stanley Caverhill of Milton-Freewater. Hostess for the party held at Ukiah was their daughter Mrs. Ray (Lulu) Meengs, assisted by a niece, Mrs. Max Graevell of Wenatchee.

Six of the guests in attendance had also been present at the couple's wedding, Sept. 1, 1906, at the home of the bride in Fox, Ore. Silver-leaved white roses trimmed the enscribed anniversary cake flanked by single white candles entwined with orchids. Mrs. Caverhill had a white orchid corsage.

Caverhill was a school teacher for many years in Long Creek, dry Creek, Ferndale and up the Walla Walla River, retiring in 1945 after teaching high school in Ukiah. For eight years he served as County Commissioner for Grant County and, since his retirement, has served civically in the Milton-Freewater area.

Mrs. Caverhill was postmistress at the Caverhill Post office between Long Creek and Ritter for 12 years. In Milton-Freewater she has been active in the Christian Church, Eastern Star and Pythian Sisters. Her hobby is gardening.

Gayle Marie Holland

Gayle Marie Holland, 43, died at home in The Dalles with her husband, Mark, and sister, Vicki, at her side on Thursday, Oct. 6, 2005, after a battle with cancer.

She was born June 29, 1962, in The Dalles, the youngest of three children to Raymond and Donna Meengs. She lived most of her life in The Dalles, briefly moving to California to attend college. She returned to The Dalles in 1988, marrying her high school sweetheart Mark in 1989. She enjoyed camping and riding motorcycles almost every weekend, golf, and trying new adventures. She enjoyed annual trips with her husband and sister to the Oregon Coast looking for shells and rocks, and also their times camping. Her favorite spot was North Fork out of Ukiah in the Blue Mountains with her family, especially her "daddy" Ray.

She was a member of Gateway Presbyterian Church, volunteering in the nursery and studying to be a Deacon, class of 2007. One of her dreams was to go on a mission sharing her dental experience with those in need.

She is survived by her husband of 16 years, Mark, and their daughter, Lindsey, The Dalles; her parents, Raymond and Donna Meengs, Ukiah; her brother, Allen Meengs, Washougal, Wash.; her sister and best friend, Vicki Bennett, and her husband Michael, The Dalles; her aunt and uncles, George and Alice Perkins, The Dalles; and Don and Betty Meengs, Pendleton; her brothers and sister-in-laws, Bill and Dwayna Holland, The Dalles; and Craig and Janet Holland, Ione; her nieces and nephews, Letitia and Allen Riter, Jason and Justin Meengs, Stacey Holland, Jason and Brian Lewis and Steven, Emily and Rachael Holland.

The family wishes to thank everyone for their kindness and prayers throughout our journey.

Thanks to Dr. Melanie Farnsworth and Gayle's angel, Angie Hamilton, the oncology nurse at OHSU and all those at UPS.

Special thanks to all those at Hospice of the Gorge.

A memorial and praise service celebrating her life will be held Saturday, Oct. 15 at 11 a.m. at Gateway Presbyterian Church, 1111 Dry Hollow Road in The Dalles, with Dr. James Hazlett officiating.
