Myrta Wagner Succumbs Here

Mrs. Myrta H. Wagner, 83, a resident of Milton-Freewater since 1935, died Saturday at a local nursing home after a long illness.

She was born March 4, 1874, in Medina, Wis. She was a telegrapher for 20 years and was office manager 26 years of the Milton Box Co., now the Harris Pine Mills, before retiring in 1941.

She was a member of the Oregon Pioneers and GAR of Milton-Freewater.

Survivors include a sister, Mrs. Mattie Smith, College Place, and a brother, Clyde H. Harris, Pendleton.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Monday at the Milton-Freewater Seventh-day Adventist Church, with burial in the IOOF Cemetery.

Obit - Clyde Harris of Pendleton Dead

PENDLETON - Clyde Harris, 78, who gave a multi-million dollar business to the Seventh-day Adventist Church, died in his home here Thursday morning.

Friends of the family said Harris had complained of a minor discomfort and collapsed while his wife was getting an aspirin for him.

Services are tentatively set for Monday at the Adventist Church here, with Burns Funeral Home handling arrangements.

Harris, who started his business career in 1913 when he and his brother, C.B. Harris, opened a little box factory in Milton, Ore., believed that "the Lord will do all right by you if you do all right by him."

BASIC TENET

"To me and my wife," he often said, "Tithing has always been a basic tenet of the Christian faith." And the two paid much more than lip service to this credo.

"It's worked, every step of the way," Harris once remarked. "Believe it or not, as we added fruit farms and orchards to our holdings, the devourer was rebuked and we invariably had good crops."

Outlining his business success, he recalled that in 39 years of continuous operation, his company showed a profit every year but one.

Talking of his early business days, with the Milton box factory, Harris once said: "We had two bosses and one employe." He and his wife soon joined the Adventist church, and began to expand their business in 1916 when a sawmill and a few more employes were added, and named Harris Pine Mills Inc. Later, Clyde Harris bought out his brother's interest in the firm which was moved to Pendleton in 1939.

Although the business mushroomed into a multimillion dollar operation over the years, Harris followed the Adventist sabbath teaching and refused to operate on Saturday.

"Some of those orchard men would get mighty upset," he recalled, "but I'd tell them we just couldn't work on Saturday. They'd threaten to stop buying from us but they never did, and our business went right on booming. You see, we did right by the Lord and He did right by us."

The mill also employed scores of students from Walla Walla College in College Place, an Adventist institution.

Over the years Harris had been a major benefactor of the college. In 1952 he gave his huge business holdings to the Adventist Church, but remained president until his retirement in 1957. By this time the mill had a 6 branch assembly operations scattered throughout the U.S.

Retirement did not halt Harris' gifts to his church. Several valuable properties also went to the church in 1960, shortly before he began a world tour to inspect Adventist missions and operations.

In August 1967 he was awarded an honorary Doctor of Law degree from Walla Walla College. Shortly after, he gave an additional $50,000 to the institution, plus the present varillon in the college chapel.

He was a longtime board member of the college perhaps the oldest in terms of years served. Harris was born March 9, 1890 in Milton and attended Milton schools. He married Mary Viola Coe, who survives him, July 8, 1914 in Milton.

PICNIC IN 'HER' PARK HONORS MARY HARRIS

There was a picnic at Harris Park, Sunday, along the swift flowing South Fork of the Walla Walla River.

Sunday's picnic wasn't too surprising. Area residents have been escaping up the Walla Walla for decades to enjoy the cooling stream, soft breezes, outdoor dining and fishing.

The picnic was organized by the Umatilla County Park and county commissioners.

Star of the affair was Mary Harris, widow of Clyde Harris, who helped make the park possible through a contribution of land several decades ago.

More recently the family's Harris Foundation made a significant contribution to a planned upgrading of the facility, and she was invited to the picnic to view the progress.

She saw the improved caretaker facility, a newly completed picnic shelter built around a stone chimney more than 60 years old, areas cleared of brush and a start on 12 planned R.V. pads. "The park commissioners have done a truly outstanding job of scrounging and scavenging to improve this facility through gifts, grants and contributions and no county general-fund tax dollars." County Commissioner Bill Hansell told the gathering, adding "They are a truly dedicated group."

Hansell noted that the existence of the planned R.V. pads will make the park eligible for additional state funds.

"I'm very happy to be here and thank you" said Mary Harris after being presented a cake in recognition of her contribution and that of her late husband to the recreational facility.

"My husband and I spent many lovely times here along the Walla Walla and I hope that you and other residents of Umatilla County will have many enjoyable times at Harris Park, too." she added.

Park commissioners are Gene Palmer, Pendleton, chairman; Bill Widner, Milton-Freewater; Jay Hughes, Pendleton; Dick Sedgewick, Hermiston; Bill McPherson, Pendleton; Wally Mathews, Pilot Rock, and Art Barrows. Pendleton.

Death Claims Milton Woman

Mrs Laura Harris, 78, Milton, died Tuesday in a Walla Walla hospital following a brief illness. She was born August 12, 1868 in Salem, and came to Milton with her parents, the late Mr and Mrs William Church, when a small child.

The family settled on the Walla Walla river where she had made her home since. Her husband, Higbee Harris, died in 1928.

She is survived by two sons, David S Harris, Portland and Ernest H Harris, Freewater; two daughters, Mrs Martha Pfeiffer, Freewater and Mable Harris, Milton. Five grandchildren also survive her.

Funeral services are being arranged for 2 p.m. Saturday from the Christian church in Milton.

Carroll Andrew Gregory

Carroll Andrew Gregory, 80, of Pendleton, died Thursday, Nov. 30, 2000, at Jonathan M. Wainwright Memorial Veterans Administration Medical Center in Walla Walla.

Memorial services will be 2 p.m. Tuesday at the Calvary Baptist Church in Pendleton.

Mr. Gregory was born March 30, 1920, at Newberry, S.C., to J.B. "Jack" and Lucia Dorn Gregory. He grew up at Ninety Six, S.D., and attended schools there.

He served with the U.S. Navy aboard the USS Honolulu during World War II and moved to Pendleton in 1945.

On Oct. 30, 1948, he married Gerita Harris at Payette, Idaho.

He was produce manager for Prairie Market in Pendleton, retiring in 1981.

Mr. Gregory was a longtime member of the Calvary Baptist Church in Pendleton.

His wife, Gerita, died in 1998.

Survivors include stepson, Alton Obert of Milton-Freewater; grandsons, Gregory Paul Obert of Milton-Freewater, and Steve Obert of Keizer; granddaughter, Susan Roberts of Pendleton; two great-grandsons, one great-granddaughter, and other relatives.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Calvary Baptist Church of Pendleton, or to a charity of choice.

Burns Mortuary of Pendleton is in charge of arrangements.

OBIT - LT. J.P. HARRIS KILLED, FRANCE (Unidentified newspaper - 1944)

Official news that First Lt. James P. (Junior) Harris was killed while attacking a German target at Nantes, France, June 21 was received from the war department by the pilot's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James B. Harris, Milton. The parents had been informed months earlier that their son was reported missing over France June 21.

Lieutenant Harris flew a P-47 (Thunderbolt) pursuit ship and disappeared from formation over the target while on a dive bombing mission at Nantes, France.

He was born in Milton March 3, 1922 and lived there until entering the air corps. He graduated from Mac-Hi and then attended Walla Walla college for two years. He took C.P.T. training at the Martin school in the spring and summer of 1942 and entered the air corps in September. He graduated at Luke Field, Phoenix, Ariz., May 20, 1943 and had further training in the East. He went to England from the East coast in November, 1943. When the Thunderbolt group was organized before leaving for overseas Lieutenant Harris was placed in group headquarters as assistant to the colonel and two captains but later when orders came to ground headquarters officers, he asked and was given permission to be transferred to an active fighter squadron. In addition to his parents, he leaves his grandmother, Mrs. Annie L. Lacey, a sister, Mrs. Darrell Henry of Ogden, Utah, and a brother, Robert W. Harris.

OBIT - Feb. 5, 1952 (no newspaper name)

HEART ATTACK FATAL TO CLAUDE H. HARRIS

Claude H. Harris, 64, resident of this community his entire life, died Tuesday morning in an ambulance on his way to a Walla Walla hospital. He had suffered a heart attack at home.

Born March 2, 1887 in Milton, he was the son of James and Bertha Harris, early pioneers. After attending Central school here he began farming operations, buying his first ten acres about two and one half miles above Milton, up the Walla Walla River in the early 1900's and gradually building up to his present extensive holdings.

In 1918, he acquired considerable pasture and farm land and started stock farming and sheep raising. These interests he sold to his nephew about 1936. Since that time he has devoted his time to wheat farming east of Milton-Freewater and in the Butter Grade area.

At hte time of his death he was residing in one of his apartments recently finished on Walla Walla street.

Survivors are one son, Archie of Milton-Freewater; two daughters, Mrs. Marjorie Harder of New York City and Mrs. Marcene Garriott of Milton.Freewater: two brothers J.B. Harris of Milton-Freewater and Clyde Harris of Pendleton; two sisters, Mrs M.H. Wagner and Mrs. Robert Smith, both of Milton-Freewater and six grandchildren.

The first Post Office for this area was established in 1899 in William (Uncle Jack) Hargraves cabin just north of town. The Postal inspector reprimanded Mr. Hargraves for being lax in his duties so Uncle Jack told him to take the post office back. In 1908 Silas Harris (Lake's father) sent a request to Washington D.C. to have a post office in the area again. Lake Harris carried mail by horseback three times a week for three months, free of charge, to show he was worthy of running a Post Office. On February 10, 1909 Mrs. C.H. Thornton was appointed postmistress. Lake was not old enough, but in 1914 he was appointed postmaster, and again in 1931 until he retired in 1959. The Post Office was located in a front corner of the Bank building.

Mrs. Lake Harris

Mrs. Lake Harris, 64, died at 8:00 o'clock Monday morning as the result of being trampled by an angry cow Friday evening, near Jay Em.

Mr. and Mrs. Harris had driven out to the pasture about 6:00 o'clock to bring in a Jersey cow and her new-born calf. When Mr. Harris went to get the calf, the cow wheeled and charged Mrs. Harris, knocked her down and trampled her.

Mr. Harris managed to drive the cow over the hill, but had to go back to the village to get the help of his brother, Art Harris, and his wife and Ernest Benshoof. They got the injured woman in the car and brought her to the Spencer Hospital in Lusk.

Funeral services are being held in Jay Em this Thursday afternoon and burial will be made in the cemetery there.

Florence O. Harris

Funeral services for Florence O. Harris, age 93, of Jay Em, are to be held today, Wednesday, May 8, 1991, at 2 p.m. at the United Methodist Church in Torrington, Wyo., with Rev. Marilyn McGraw officiating. Interment of the cremains will take place at a later date. Memorial gifts to Forest Mound Chapel at Jay Em, or donor's choice would be equally appreciated by the family. She died at Casper, Wyo., on Saturday, May 4, 1991.

Harris was born Sept. 14, 1897, in Welsh Indian Territory, Okla., the daughter of Arthur and Mantha (Hart) Blair. Her parents homesteaded at the Waterhole Ranch north of Fort Laramie. She attended school at Canyon City, Colo., to become a teacher and she taught in rural schools in Wyoming.

She married Frank H. Harris on July 11, 1920 at her parents' homestead, and they ranched at Jay Em. Her husband died in 1967 and she has maintained her home at the Jay Em Ranch for 69 years.

She was a member of the Methodist Church, Goshen County Cowbells, the Retired Teachers Association and was a charter member of the Goshen County Extension Club, and was an active 50-year member of the Wyoming Extension Homemaker Council. She served as chairman of Goshen County Planning Board in 1941 and was active in 4-H as a leader and supporter. She was honored in 1979 as Woman of the Year. She was instrumental in the building of Forest Mound Chapel in Jay Em.

She is survived by two sons and daughters-in-law, Mark J. and Betty Harris of Jay Em and Dale W. and Ginger Harris of Torrington; a sister, Ruth Johnson of McCleery, Wash., 10 grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren. In addition to her husband, she was preceded in death by five brothers and four sisters.

Maysie McVay

Funeral services for Maysie G. McVay, 91, will be held at 2 p.m. Feb. 9 in the Glendo School Gym, with Jim Wilson conducting. Internment will be in Horseshoe Cemetery near Glendo. Mrs. McVay died Feb. 2, 2006, at her daughter's home near Glendo of natural causes.

She was born in Lusk on Dec. 31, 1914, to Lake C. and Autumn (Mayes) Harris. She was raised in Jay Em. She was 4 when her mother died from the flu, so she was raised by her father and his parents. She started school at age 4 and helped in her father's store at a young age. She attended high school in Laramie at Ivinson Boarding School and graduated from high school in Waupun, Wis., at 14. She attended summer school in Walla Walla, Wash., and received a normal teacher's certificate from Chadron State College.

She taught for two years at Fairview School east of Jay Em, two years at Moore Springs School west of Jay Em and one year at Fort Laramie. She married Francis Hewitt McVay in 1937, and they had 11 children. Due to her husband's work with Farm Security, they lived in Lingle, Lusk, Riverton, Laramie and Jay Em before settling in Glendo in 1951. They operated McVay Sawmill and Lumber Yard. She cleaned motel rooms, took in ironing and sold worms and eggs. After the children were raised she worked at the Glendo Post Office for numerous years, as well as being a substitute teacher and later a teacher's aide at Glendo School. She retired from the school system in 1994.

She will be remembered for her good nature, sharp wit, love of children and helping them learn, her great love of books, flowers, horses, mountains and rock hunting. She was an avid reader and enjoyed keeping up with current events.

She is survived by daughters and their spouses Marjorie (Don) Sanborn, Hazel (Gailard) Mudgett, Dena (Gary) Robinson, Edith (Michael) DeNoyer, and Beth (John) Stryker; sons and their spouses Francis (Karen) McVay, James McVay, Lane McVay, Harold (Deborah) McVay and Donald McVay; 35 grandchildren; 53 great-grandchildren; seven great-great-grandchildren. She was preceded in death by her parents; husband Francis; daughter Francis Irene Johnson; step-daughter Mary Lou Maynard; brother James Harris; and baby sister Autumn Harris. Memorials may be made to the Glendo branch of the Platte County Library or to the Horseshoe Cemetery for beautification. Gorman Funeral Homes – Converse Chapel of Douglas is in charge of the arrangements.
