Ballou, Isaac A. Born in Adams county, Massachusetts, April 13, 1806. When four years of age he moved with his parents to Herkimer county, New York, where he resided until 1818, when he went to Saratoga county New York. April 23, 1826, he married Miss Hannah Allen. She was born February 2, 1907, in the above county. In the Fall of 1832 he moved with his family to Summit county, Ohio, residing in that and Cuyahoga county until 1853, when he took up residence in Du Page county, Illinois, living there until 1874, when he came to California. mr. Ballou was one of a party who visited this State in 1852, but remained only thirteen months, when he returned to Illinois. The children born to them are Volney J., born May 20, 1827; Sylvester A., born October 19, 1828; Amelia W., born August 20, 1830; William N., born May 29, 1832; Orlando, born December 19, 1833; Hosea, born December 5, 1835; Daniel W., born February 26, 1837; Malina, born December 17, 1838; Morgan, born January 2, 1844; Henrietta, born January 3, 1846; Malvina M., born May 29, 1847; Zella, born December 2, 1850. Have lost five -- Volney J., William N., Malina, Hosea and an infant daughter. Mr Ballou had four sons in the late rebellion, three of whom served in the field until the close of the war, and were honorably discharged. The other one served in the Quartermaster's Department, and was also honorably discharged from duty. Sylvester A. ranked as Major and A.C.S., Daniel W. as Captain of the Tenth Missouri Cavalry, and Volney and Morgan as privates, Company B, Thirty-third Illinois Infantry. The subject of this sketch, with his wife Hannah, are residents of Santa Rosa. This aged couple have been married over fifty-three years, and are honored and respected by their associates.

Ballou, Volney James (deceased). The subject of this sketch, whose portrait appears in this work, was born in Saratoga county, New York, May 20, 1827. Here he attended the common schools. In 1839 his parents emigrated to Cuyahoga county, Ohio, where Volney finished his education, after which he sailed around the world, and was absent from port thirty three months, on a whaling voyage. During the California gold excitement in 1849, he returned to Ohio, and being possessed of more than an ordinary adventurous spirit, and enured to the hardships incident to a roving life, he at once emigrated to this State and commenced mining in El Dorado county, continuing in this pursuit until the Fall of 1853, at which time he settled in Santa Rosa valley, on the farm where he died. In 1864, he returned to the East, enlisting in the Subsistence Department, and was detailed as clerk in the commissary depot at Johnsonville, Tennessee, serving in this capacity for nine months, when he was honorably discharged, returning to Du Page county, Illinois. On March 29, 1867, he married at Naperville, in that county, Mrs. Michael Leonard, whose maiden name was Rosia A Mayer. She was born in Northampton county, Pennsylvania, November 2, 1839. Immediately after their marriage, they returned to this State. During his long residence in this county -- from 1853 to the time of his death on June 4, 1877 -- it can be truthfully said of Mr. Ballou that he was an honorable, upright gentleman. Starting out in life as he did, from himself when quite young, he has achieved all his successes single-handed, and in the presence of obstacles which only the most indomitable energy and courage could have surmounted, has given him an honorable position among his fellow Men.

He married (2) ELIZA A NORTON 12 Jan 1875 in Du Page, Illinois, daughter of MICHAEL NORTON and MARY FITZGERALD. She was born 24 Mar 1848 in New York, and died 12 Aug 1924 in Naperville, Du Page, Illinois.

Notes for SYLVESTER ALLEN BALLOU:

SYLVESTER ALLEN BALLOU FAMILY

Sylvester A. Ballou was a direct descendant of Maturin Ballou, one of the founders of Rhode Island. He was born in Galway N.Y. in 1828. His father, Isaac Albee Ballou, and family moved to Breckenridge, Ohio, in 1832 where he was a farmer and maker of shoes. "Ves," as Sylvester was called, taught school from 1848-9, when he and his brother Volney, sailed around Cape Horn to try their luck in the gold fields, where they arrived in August, 1850.

The brothers walked to Cold Springs, El Dorado Country, "a teeming hive of gold seekers", where Ves became a leading citizen. He founded a Lyceum and the first public library in California in 1853. That year he was elected to the State Assembly in Benicia and made chairman of a committee to investigate sites for a permanent capitol. Ballou's 7-page document recommending Sacramento, as well as many bills he sponsored, are in the California Archives.

In the summer of 1854 he returned to Naperville where his father had purchased a farm, south of the second bridge along the DuPage River. In the spring of 1855 he and his brother Orlando returned to California, living near Quincy where they prospected along the Feather River and packed supplies to the miners' camps. He was the first teacher in the Pioneer school there, now a California landmark.

In 1858 Ballou was elected to the Assembly again. Newspapers praised him as a hard-working and principled legislator, a capable committee chairman, an effective orator and the best parliamentarian in the house. He was famous for his unflinching stand on the question of statehood for Kansas, emphasizing popular sovereignty rather than his anti-slavery convictions.

In 1859 Ballou was elected to the Senate from Butte and Plumas Counties. His speeches, significant for their intelligent and moral reasoning and also popular for their witty and ironic cast, were often printed on the front pages of the Sacramento and San Francisco papers.

When the legislature was over in 1860, Ballou, convinced that war was imminent, returned to Naperville. He joined the Union Army, became a major serving in Missouri, Georgia and Tennessee, and won praise as being "not only wise, active and efficient, but thoroughly honest."

In June 1865 he married 20-year-old Julia Barnard and they returned to San Francisco to fulfill his appointment as Chief Commissary Officer of the Army, Department of California. They came back to Naperville in 1866 and their son, Ray, was born the following year. Julia died of pneumonia in 1869.

In 1871 he rented his farm and went to Indian Territory where he engaged in building the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railroad. In 1873 he returned to California by train (5½ days) and wrote articles for the Naperville Clarion on the great changes in that country. In 1874 his father, Isaac Albee, went to live with his brother; Volney in Santa Rosa, California.

Ves proposed to Eliza Norton in a 6-stanza poem. She was the daughter of Mary and Michael Norton of Irish decent, a beautiful 26-year-old school teacher in the Ellsworth School, with a lively personality. They were married on Jan. 12, 1875. The only time they were separated during their 24 years was when Ves joined the silver rush to Leadville, Colorado, in 1879, an unsuccessful mining venture. They had 4 children, Ralph, Mary Eloise (May) and the twins, Alice and Edith. May married Bernard C. Beckman Oct 24, 1900. Their 3 daughters were Bernice (Mrs. Stuart S. Ball), Eleanor (Mrs. Albert R. Martin) and Sylvia (Mrs. Robert Warner).

Ves enlarged the home he had built for Julia into a fine house, still standing, surrounded by numerous tall condominiums. He bought a second farm adjoining his to the north, running up the road of the second bridge. (The children attended the little red school house that stood across the river to the north.) He found many arrowheads when turning over those fields for the first time. The tenant farmer lived on this farm and there were hired hands when extra help was needed. He kept a journal noting the weather and planting of crops.

The Ballou family had a merry life with games, spelling bees, and constant reading. There was a pleasant social life between the Ballous and other gentlemen farmers south of town, the Greens, the Barnards and the Royces. They moved to Naperville about 1890, the corner of Brainard and Highland Ave.

The Martin Mitchell Museum has the canvas covered truck that Ballou took around Cape Horn, his tall silk hat that he wore to the legislature in California, and the field desk that accompanied him throughout the Civil War

She was born 12 May 1837 in Watertown, Jefferson, New York, and died 24 Feb 1929 in Umatilla, OR7.

Notes for ORLANDO RALPH BALLOU:

The Ballous in America, Pub. by Ballou Family Assoc of America, Boston, Mass, Sept 1937 pg 16

He took his bride to Lisle Township, Ill., then to Naperville, Ill. In 1872 the family moved to Santa Rosa, Calif., where their seventh child was born. Then the family moved to San Francisco, Calif., from which plac, in 1878, they first went to Portland, ORe., then by boat to Wallula, thence to Walla Walla, and finally settled on what is now the old homestead, "Brooklands". From letter of Florence(Ballou) Brown, Spokane, 1032; "Oour original farm was called 'Birch Brook', where I was born in 1880. Father bought it in 1878 and moved the family up from California. Then he found the title was not quite clear and had to use his homestead rights to prove up on it. He bought more land until he had 388 acres of the best land in Walla Walla Valley, containing four streams and fifty-two springs. In 1889 he sold 'Birch Brook Farm' and 80 acres, and moved to another house on the place, which we called 'Crystal Springs Farm'. There he had a large dairy, 20 acres of pears, and an apple orchard. He sold baled timothy hay to the goverment for cavalry horses. In 1899 he sold this place and a hundred acres and built 'Brooklands'. I was married here in 1903."

Orlando & Elizabeth Pioneer Step #33 was purchased by Bert R. Edwards on August 11, 1969.

Orlando R. Ballou died Freewater OR 1909.

Notes for MYRA J. BALLOU:

The Ballous in America, Pub. by Ballou Family Assoc of America, Boston, Mass, Sept 1937

Miss Ballou has been one of the enthusiastic memebers of the Ballou Family Association, and has accumulated a great deal of historical and genealogical date pertaining to this interesting pioneering branch of the Ballou family, and to her efforts we are indebted for many memberships.

It is a pleasure to quote from an article (1917) from The Farmers Union News, Corvallis, Benton Co., Ore.: "When speaking of faithful officers, Miss Myra Ballou, Umatilla County Secretary, must not be overlooked. For four years, as Secretary of her County, she never missed a meeting. She has always been awake to all public questions, especially those pertaining to farm life, and can be depended upon to eneter into any work that will benefit the farmers, with a will. She is no city farmer, but lives with her mother on her farm 'Brooklands', (rightly named), some three miles north of Freewater, Oregon. She personally looks after the management of her farm with wonderful accuracy and procision. She is able to give many men valuable pointers on grains, grasses, and fruits, all of which she raises on her farm. She keeps a register and requests every visitor to sign, and can show the names of thousands of persons who have had the pleasure of visiting 'Brooklands'. Miss Ballou has frequently been mentioned as a possible candidate for the legislature, but so far has persistently refused to enter politics."

She has been a delegate to many conventions; National Irrigation Congress at Spokane, Wash.; Country Life Congress; American Forestry Assn. of which she was a member, and many others. She was an ardent club woman, a member of WallaWalla Art Club. She had no church affiliations, but a sincere home spiritualist, as were her mother and father for fifty years. She bequeathed her share of 'Brooklands' to her sister Florence (Ballou) Brown.

CLARENCE O. BALLOU

Clarence O. Ballou, well known in the commercial circles of Boise as the president of the Ballou-Latimer Company, Limited, owners of a large retail drug store at the corner of Ninth and Idaho streets, was born on a farm in Cook county, Illinois, just west of Chicago, January 18, 1866, his parents being Orlando R. and Elizabeth (Boyd) Ballou. The father, traced his ancestry back to one who came to America with Roger Williams. Orlando R Ballou was born in Cuyahoga county, Ohio, December 19, 1833, and died in 1910 at the age of seventy-seven years. Throughout his active business career he followed the occupation of farming and although he was not physically fit for active fighting service in the Civil war he did valuable work for the country as a master of transportation in the Union army. Three of his brothers were on the firing line, one of these being Major Sylvester Ballou. Mrs. Elizabeth Ballou still survives her husband and now resides with a daughter in Umatilla county, Oregon.

Clarncce O. Ballou is the only member of the family residing in Idaho. At the age of six years, or in 1872, he accompanied his parents to Sonoma county, California, and in 1878 a removal was made to Umatilla county, Oregon, where the father spent his remaining days. The son passed his youth there and acquired a public school education in California and Oregon, while later he continued his studies at Whitman College of Walla Walla, Washington. When seventeen years of age he began learning the drug business in a store in Walla Walla and has since followed that pursuit, covering a period of about thirty-six years. He remained with the same firm in Walla Walla for thirteen years, or from 1883 until 1896, a fact indicative of his thorough reliability as well as capability. In the latter year, however, he came to Boise and for four years continued to act as a drug clerk in the store of Northrup & Joy, thus spending seventeen years with two houses. On the 18th of March, 1901, he joined with the late James B Latimer in the purchase of the stock of drugs formerly owned by W. S. Galbraith on Eighth street in the old Odd Fellows building. The two men then organized and incorporated what became known as the Ballou-Latimer Company, Limited, of which Mr. Ballou has since been the president. Mr. Latimer became the vice president and so continued up to the time of his death in 1911, while W. H. Puckett was the secretary and treasurer, remaining as such until his death a few years ago. Mrs James B. Latimer is now vice president, while Mrs. Teressa Puckett is the secretary and treasurer. On the 1st of January, 1913, the Ballou-Latimer Company removed their drug store to the present quarters in the McCarty building at the corner of Ninth and Idaho streets and today they have one of the best establishments of the kind not only in Boise but throughout Idaho. Mr. Ballou is thoroughly familiar with every phase of the business and with every detail as well as its principle features and at all times has been actuated by a progressive spirit in the conduct of his interests. He has served as president of the Idaho State Board of Pharmacy for nine years, having been first appointed by Governor Gooding and reappointed by Governor James H. Hawley.

On the 6th of October, 1917, Mr. Ballou was married to Miss Mary C. Baillie of Denver Colorado. In politics he has always been a stalwart champion of republican principles but never an office seeker. He is the past noble grand of the local lodge of Odd Fellows, is a member of the Benevolent Protective Order of Elks and also of the Boise Commercial Club. Alert and energetic, he has readily recognized his opportunities, which he has utilized to good advantage, and along with the legitimate lines of trade he has reached his present creditable and enviable postion in the commercial circles of Idaho's capital.

Charles Marshall at Denver, Col., to Mary Charlotte Baillie, b. at London, Canada, dau. of Thomas and Mary Ann (Hodgins) Baillie, of Denver. He left Walla Walla and established the firm of Ballou-Latimer Drug Store, at Boise. He was a delegate tot he National Druggist Association meeting held in Boston about 1911, and president of the Idaho State Board of Pharmacy for several years.

Notes for SAMUEL MATHER:

Historical encyclopedia of Illinois, and History of Du Page County, Munsell Publishing Company, Chicago, 1913 page 952a

Mather, Samuel. The question of supply and demand has been further complicated during recent years by the requirements of pure food laws, which necessitate the production of articles of consumption according to rules provided for in the various acts passed. Some of the most aggressive business men of Du Page County have found it to their advantage to embark in enterprises having for their object the manufacture of wholesome food products, which because of their purity command good prices in any market. One of these men is Samuel Mather secretary and treasurer of the Naperville Co-operative Co., manufacturers of high grade butter and cheese. He was born March 7, 1847, at Whallonsburgh, Essex County, N. Y., being a son of Joshua E. and Maria (Frisbee) Mather. Joshua E. Mather was a mechanic who at one time was engaged in manufacturing iron articles. He came to Illinois in 1852, becoming a farmer, and dying upon his property in 1880. His wife survived him until 1891. They 3were farming people all their lives.

From 1864 to 1865, Mr. Mather attended the Naperville Academy, then returning to the farm, conducted it until 1873. He then had some experience as a ranchman in California from 1873 to 1880. In 1883, he came to Du Page County from Will County, locating in Lisle Township. In 1888, with William King and J.P. Rickert, he organized the Naperville Co-operative Co., with himself as secretary and treasurer. The creamery has a capacity of from 2,700 to 30,000 pounds of milk per day, according to the supply. The business has steadily advanced, and the product is kept up to a high standard of excellence.

Mr. Mather was married November 21, 1866, at Lisle, Ill., to Malvina Ballow. The children born of this marriage were: Glen E., deceased; Zillia A., deceased; Roy a., Fred E., Roscoe, deceased, and Ethel M. Roy and Fred were educated at Champaign, Ill., the latter being with the St. Paul Railroad as civil engineer, while the former is with the American Bridge Co. at Ambridge, Penn. Zillia died when twenty-two years old, after graduating from the Northwestern College at Naperville. Ethel married Dean D. Gross, and her husband is a merchant of Yankton, S.D.; Daniel, their son, is ex-postmaster of this place.

Mr. Mather has always been active in Republican party matters, serving as Alderman from the Third Ward of Naperville during 1907, 1908 and 1909, and in 1910, he was elected Mayor. During his administration, the people enjoyed a businesslike administration, and a number of improvements were inaugurated and carried out. He is a Past Master of Euclid Lodge, No. 65, A.F. & A. M., and Past High Priest of Euclid Chapter, No. 13, R. A. M. While not affiliated with any religious denomination, he believes in the Fatherhood of God and the Brotherhood of man. Mr. Mather was Postmaster here for six years, filling a part of this time as assistant.
