He married ADA MOORE 19 Dec 1882 in San Joaquin Co, CA, daughter of HENRY MOORE and MARY WILLIAMS. She was born 14 May 1859 in California, and died 27 Oct 1950 in San Joaquin, California³⁶.

P. A. BUELL -- born on a farm near Cleveland, Ohio, Park Arbington Buell, generally known as P.A. Buell, was the son of Sidney Buell and Amelia W. (Ballou) Buell. After his father's death, his mother brought her little family to California, and built a home at Santa Rosa.

P.A. Buell remained at home until he was grown, receiving his education in the public schools. he came to Stockton in the early '80s and entered the employ of the White & Thomas Planing Mill Company, remaining with them until he went into business for himself. He organized the P.A. Buell Planing Mill & Lumber company, with office at Center and Sonora streets. The mills covered an area of 50,000 square feet, and the yards occupied over ten acres on the south bank of Mormon channel.

After establishing himself in Stockton, Mr. Buell married Miss Ada Moore, the daughter of H.H. Moore, a well-known pioneer resident and businessman of the city. Three children were born to Mr and Mrs. Buell: Leon Moore, Henry H. and Amy. The eldest son died at the age of eight years. Henry H. is a graduate of Stanford University, and an electrical engineer by profession. He married Miss Rheda Ridenour, and they have two sons, Warren Henry, and Robert Allen. Amy graduated from Miss Head's school in Berkeley, and received her degree from Mills College. She is the wife of John Stewart Greaves and they have one daughter, Nancy Jane.

P.A. Buell was a stanch Republican in politics, and fraternally a knight Templar Mason and a member of Charity Lodge, I.O.O.F. He was prominently identified with many affairs which were beneficial to the public good. He was the organizer and president of the Commercial Association which was instrumental in having the San Francisco and San Joaquin Valley Railroad built from Stockton; was identified with the building of the Sierra Railroad; was a director of the Jackson, Sutter & Amador Railway Company, whose line was then in course of construction. He also visited Washington in the interest of waterways of California. His last prominent work was the organization of the San Joaquin Valley Association, embracing the twelve counties forming the low lands and slopes of that fertile valley. he was also the president of the Bown Mining Company of Tuolumne.

Mr Buell continually and unselfishly devoted a large proportion of his time and best effort aiding and encouraging any worthy enterprise which he felt would redound to the advantage of his community. In his sudden and premature death on April 4, 1900, Stockton lost a stalwart supporter of every civic movement for the welfare of his adopted city.

Notes for YANCEY CRAWFORD BLALOCK:

An illustrated history of Walla Walla County, state of Washington, By Professor W. D. Lyman, page 356, W. H. Lever, Publisher 1901

DR Y.C. BLALOCK, physician and surgeon in the Rees-Winans building, was born in Mitchell county, North Carolina, August 3, 1859. He was early taken by his parents to central Illinois, where he resided until 1873, attending the public schools. He then started across the plains to Walla Walla, driving a four-mule team all the way from Macon county, Illinois. For a number of years after his arrival he worked on his father's farm during the summer months, attending school in winter, and at last, by dint of hard, patient effort in the face of difficulties which would have overwhelmed a less resolute man, he prepared himself for entrance to Jefferson Medical College.

Immediately after graduation Dr. Blalock began practice in Walla Walla, opening an office on April 1, 1884. Since that date he has devoted his energies assiduously to his profession, building up a large practice, and attaining a high standing among his fellow practitioners. At present he holds the office of county coroner, and for four terms he was health officer of the city. His interest in the welfare of Walla Walla is manifested in many ways, but finds more particular expression in his activity in connection with the Volunteer fire department, of which he has served as chief for six years. The Doctor is very active in politics. In 1898 he was elected chairman of the Republican County Central Committee, and in the present year he was again chosen to fill that office.

In fraternal circles the Doctor is intensely active. He has held many high offices in the Masonic order, both in the grand and subordinate lodges, and is also very prominent in the K. of P., and a member of the I.O.O.F. He was married, in April, 1883, in Walla Walla, to Julia Sanderson, a native of that city, who died in October, 1885, leaving one son, Jesse N. In 1890 he again married, the lady being Lillian Ballou, who resided just across the Oregon line from Walla Walla, and to this marriage was born one daughter, Phoebe I.

Dr. Yancey Blalock practiced medicine in Walla Walla, Walla Walla, WA

Death claims W. D. Church

W. Dement Church, who June 3 observed his 97th birthday at the Sunny Valley Sanitarium where he had lived in recent years, died Wednesday night. He had been in failing health.

The funeral will be at 1:30 p.m. Friday at the Groseclose Garden Chapel. Cremation will follow.

Church had resided in Walla Walla 79 years having come here in 1890 to serve as an accountant for the flour mill owned and operated by his uncles: Frank and Fred Dement.

He was born June 3, 1873, in Oregon City. His parents were Charles P. Church and Julia Dement Church, longtime residents of that city.

Church and Bertha Ballou, Walla Walla's first law office stenographer, were married Nov 23, 1898. Her parents had come here in 1878 and purchased property that became Ballou Road.

Mr and Mrs Church observed both their 50th and 60th wedding anniversaries.

Mrs Church died in 1961.

There were seven children in the family, five surviving: Donald B. Church, Stuart, Va.; Mrs Wendell T. (Elizabeth) Fitzgerald, Burlingame, Calif.; Robert D. Church, Lopez Island in the San Juan group of Puget Sound; Mrs. Bert (Ruth) Edwards, 1135 Alvarado Terrace and Mrs. Robert K. (Jean) Blair, Greenbrae, Calif. There are 21 grand- and great-grandchildren.

Church later became a member of the Dement firm and was the corporation's secretary when it was sold in 1918. Other of his activities included grain buyer, operating a silver fox farm at the family home near Offner Crossing and the ferry at Wallula. They lived at Lake Chelan for a time.

In 1965 he was appointed honorary mayor during Senior Citizens month.

Until fairly recent years he was active in the WallaWalla Area Pioneer & Historical Society having served both as secretary and president of its predecessor organizations, holding the post of president nine years.

Organizations to which he belonged indicate his wide interest: Washington State Historical Society, Huguenot Society, Washington Society of the Order of the Founders and Patriots of America, Sons of the American Revolution, Plimoth Plantation, Society of Mayflower Descendants, (continued Page 5)

Oregon Historical Society, American Pioneer Trails Association, the First Congregational Church and the Chamber of Commerce.

Church traced his ancestry to Richard Warren, a passenger on the Mayflower on the voyage that ended at Plymouth in December 1620.

Walla Walla Union Bulletin (Walla Walla, Washington) > 1948 > November > 14, page 12

Golden Wedding of Churches Will be Observed November 21

Fifty years ago, minus a week or so, W. Dement Church of Walla Walla and Bertha Ballou were married at the bride's home-- known as Chrystal Springs farm -- in the Ballou district, north of Freewater.

The bride was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orlando R Ballou, pioneers of the Freewater district since 1878.

An informal golden anniversary of that marriage will be observed next Sunday, November 21, though the precise anniversary date is the following Tuesday.

The Churches will be at home with open house next Sunday from 3 until 6 o'clock. They live in the former Baunmeister residences on South Second. Mr. and Mrs. Church extend a general public invitation to their friends to call during the open house.

Walla Walla Always Home

Walla Walla has been home for the couple through this half-century of married life and both have contributed much to the development of their community in several fields.

The Church-Ballou romance had its inception at a charity ball, which in that day and age was the ultimate in Walla Walla society. The young man lost no time in pressing his courtship. Sometimes he walked the several miles from his home to the Ballou place, but he soon acquired a cayuse to replace the bicycle on which he customarily "went acourtin". There was either a lot of dust or a lot of mud to contend with.

The cayuse eventually came to know the route so well that the rider frequently enjoyed a deep sleep in the saddle on the return trip.

Dr. Penrose Officiated.

The wedding took place November 23, at the bride's home. She wore white silk organdie over taffeta. The wedding gown will be worn next Sunday at the open house by Mrs. Church's daughter, Mrs. Bert Edwards.

The late Dr. Stephen B. L. Penrose was the officiating minister. Dr. Penrose, by the way, officiated at the wedding of Ruth Church and Bert Edwards in 1936.

Portland Best Man

The bridesmaid was Florence, sister of the bride, now Mrs. David Brown of Spokane. Dr. Edwin Labbe of Portland was best man.

After a wedding breakfast the newlyweds came to Walla Walla and caught the 2:30 N.P. train to Tacoma where they spent their honeymoon. The station was then at Palouse and Main.

On their return they set up a temporary home in a little cottage previously occupied by Dr. J. F. Cropp, on East Rose, before he erected a larger and more imposing home.

First Law Stenographer

Mrs. Church has the distinction of being Walla Walla's first law office stenographer -- in fact there was only one other girl of that profession then employed in town.

To acquire an education, she first attended the very old and historically important Ford school, which stood at one time near the Ford cemetery. a short distance west of the Milton-Freewater highway at Ballou road.

When 12, she came to Walla Walla to attend Baker school, living with a sister who was a teacher. She attended Whitman academy, and from there went to the Stubblefield business college, located on the second floor of a building on Main street between First and Second streets.

Her first job was with the law firm of B.L. and J.L. Sharpstein. At the outset, the elder partner thought the idea of a woman around a law office was not in good taste, but he soon capitulated.

Ingram First Reporter

Oscar Ingram was court reporter at the time. Mrs. Church states that her salary was $35 per month, with five-day weeks, but she earned as much or more some weeks by doing public stenography.

Her employers reached the conclusion that Bertha Ballou should study law and attain the status of a law clerk. Judge Sharpstein later commented: "She was making great headway toward a brilliant career in law, when she foolishly fell in love."

Mrs Church has personal knowledge about a great deal of the march of progress in the valley. her parents came from Santa Rosa, where she was born in 1878 and bought the Teale place on what is now Ballou road, near the highway to Freewater.

Orlando R. Ballou was an apostle of diversified farming. He brought the first purely-bred jersey cow to the area, introduced new alfalfa types, started a diversified orchard. He converted milk to butter and cheese, and brought his goods to Walla Walla on Saturdays.

It was Orlando Ballou who led the struggle to get a highway into Freewater, and it was laid out on the present grade. To reach Freewater or Walla Walla, six gates had to be opened in either case. The Walla Walla trip involved fording the Walla Walla river and the Yellow Hawk.

It was also Ballou who fought against great odds for a right-of-way for the interurban road. The third attempt was successful.

Flower Fancier

Mrs. Church's parents were great lovers of flowers, and their lovely home in the Ballou district soon came to be a valley show place. Apparently Mrs. Church inherited that trait. She headed up the first P.T.A. in the Washington School, and with Mrs. Alfred Jones founded the Washington school flower show which has enjoyed an uninterrupted popularity. She has been president of the Walla Walla garden club, has been a member of the Iris club and the Offner Garden club.

Her devotion to blooms was exemplified in her success with the flower show at the Walla Walla fair, which she directed after the excellent and protracted service in that capacity by the late Fred Hedger.

Besides all these activities she has been actively associated with the D.A.R. and many other fields where cultural development is an objective.

Remembers Indian Troubles

The Indian troubles of 1878 broke soon after the Ballous arrived, though the warring warriors got no nearer than Pendleton and Umatilla.

Most of the countryside bivouacked in tents at the fair grounds in Walla Walla. The Ballous, however, joined with the McCoy family of their district in protecting the women and children in the McCoy home at night. The men stood guard. To a girl of tender years, the excitement was something not soon forgotten.

Fostered History Moves.

Dement Church has been particularly attentive to the development and advancement of greater appreciation of history values. There is good reason for this trait because his grandfather, William C. Dement, was one of those who came to Oregon with the first train of immigrants in 1843.

William C. Dement later married the daughter of Hezekiah Johnson, who came to Oregon City in 1845 as the first Baptist minister in that community.

To that union was born Julia Dement., who married Charles Church of Oregon City. William Dement Church is the son of that couple.

Church came to Walla Walla from Oregon City in 1890 to serve as accountant for the flour mill owned and operated by his uncles, the Dement brothers. He later became a member of the firm and was the corporation's secretary when it was sold in 1918. He continued in the grain-buying business.

Association Leader

He has given much time and support to the Walla Walla County Pioneer association, of which Dr. N.G. Blalock was the first president. This was more than 50 years ago. Ben Bergunder was the second president, followed by Will Clark, Dement, and Frank Lowden, incumbent.

The late Marvin Evans was secretary under Bergunder, and Church succeeded Evans, serving 14 years. He then took the presidency for a nine-years service.

Not Reunion

Mr and Mrs Church will not be favored with the presence of the entire family during the anniversary. Instead, they enjoyed the homecoming of their sons and daughters during the past summer -- save only their son Robert D. of Medford. To complete the anniversary year contacts, the Walla Wallans visited their son at his Medford home during the summer.

Sons and daughters other than Robert, are: Elizabeth (Mrs. Wendell T.)Fitzgerald, San Francisco; Donald B., Stewart, Va.; Jean (Mrs. Robert K.) Blair, Fort Hamilton, N.Y.; Ruth (Mrs. Bert) Edwards, Walla Walla.

27. FLORENCE PERDITA⁵ BALLOU (ORLANDO RALPH⁴, ISAAC ALBEE³, ISAAC², AARON¹) was born 22 Oct 1880 in Milton, Umatilla, OR, and died 05 Jul 1965 in Spokane, Washington^{63,64}. She married DAVID BROWN 30 Sep 1903 in Freewater, Umatilla, Oregon, son of SHERWOOD BROWN and LYDIA EDDOWES. He was born 05 Dec 1865 in Galena, Illinois.

Notes for FLORENCE PERDITA BALLOU:

The Ballous in America, Pub. by Ballou Family Assoc of America, Boston, Mass, Sept 1937 pg 65

He is interested in real estate developments, constructing a beautiful section of Spokane, where he had the privilege of planning with the cooperation of Olmstead Bros., nationally known landscape gardeners of Brookline, Mass. One of the streets he named Ballou Street, another, Garfield Road. He is a director of the Hazelwood Creamery Co., Spokane, and much interested in fine blooded and short horn cattle. The Ballou Family Assn. is much indebted to Mrs. Florence (Ballou) Brown, his estimable wife, for a great deal that has been recorded along genealogical lines of this interesting Ballou branch. We can easily see what her sister, Myra Ballou, of 'Brooklands', Freewater, Ore., means when she says, 'She is the genealogical sister.' Their home is at the 'Farm', seven miles west of Spokane, at the intersection of the Sunset and Columbia Highways. Members of this family belong to the Association.

Notes for FANNY B MCLACHLAN:

Email: Date: Tue, 10 Apr 2007

Great ancestry research! I found a couple of errors:

1. Daniel W. Ballou was married twice, not three times. His second wife was Sierra Ella Meek (Sierra E. Ballou), but she also went by Ella S. Ballou. So your third person is the same as the second.

I have a photo of her, but haven't found anything more about her than what you have. One story about her--when my sister had twins, it was thought that there was no history of twins in the family tree. However, a great aunt explained that there was one pair of twins--Sierra and Nevada. I can't imagine there's another Sierra in the family, so I've looked for a "Nevada Meek" but have found nothing. Could have even died in infancy.

2. Daniel W. Ballou's son Percy (my great grandmother) married Fanny McLachlan (spelling is off in your article. I knew her--she died in 1974 at the age of 95). Her father was Peter McLachlan (not J. S. McLachlan), born in Scotland and came through New York to live in California. I have a photo of him.

Daniel W.'s son Percy was my great grandfather.
