Mariposa Gazette, March 9, 1907 Body Recovered (submitted by Tom Hilk)

Word was telephoned to Mariposa Thursday evening that the body of Dave Ashworth, the young man who was downed in the Merced river a few weeks ago, had been recovered. The body was found only a short distance below the point where he was supposed to have entered the river on the opposite side. Coroner D. E. Johnson was summoned and left for the river to hold an inquest on the body, but at this writing nothing is known as to whether or not the condition of the body will admit of its being brought to Mariposa for burial.

Ashworth Family of Mariposa , written by Ben Pierce

I am not an expert on the subject but according to the records available to me the first Ashworth family member to reside in Mariposa County was David Croghan Ashworth. David was known to all by the initials "DC". His descendants still affectionately call him that today. David came to California from Missouri during the Gold Rush in 1849. He crossed the country along the Southern trail with his second wife Jessina Francis White. The Ashworths came across the trail with two children. The oldest child was David's ten-year-old daughter from a first marriage. Her name was Louisa Ashworth. The second child was David Marion Ashworth. David Marion was the son of DC and Jessina. David Marion was almost a year old when the family started along the Southern trail. According to family tradition another child, Janie Ashworth made the crossing with them. Janie was five years old at the time. The story is told that Janie died outside of Santa Fe, New Mexico by falling onto a picket fence while playing on the trail.. DC

The Ashworths first entered California at the Gila River crossing along the current day California/Arizona border. The travelers then followed the El Camino Real up the coast to San Jose. The family resided for a short time there. Later that year David settled near what is now the town of Coulterville. In the spring of 1850, he lived for a short time at Mormon Bar, and then in the town of Mariposa, where he resided until 1855. He then moved to the hills east of town and engaged in farming and stockraising. He eventually accumulated 1500 acres in the Big Spring Hill area where the family ranch was located.

In Mariposa, DC Ashworth made the acquaintance of Benjamin Butler Harris. Harris had this to say about DC Ashworth in his book "The Gila Trail".

D.C. Ashworth possessed much shrewdness and horse sense, was a dead rifle shot, never borrowed but always formed his own opinions, and, withall, was utterly without book knowledge and barely able to write his name. In reply to a query, he averred that the origin of gold in California was due to its being "thrown up by volcanic corruptions and clandestinely hid all over the country." Hearing the County Clerk and myself avow that the sun was stationary and that the world revolved, pronouncing us fools first, he then screwed his rifle in a vise aimed at the sun, which, some hours later, showed to be out of gun line. He nasally reported the fact that the sun had moved, that the rifle never lied, savagely daring anybody to challenge its veracity. He argumentatively added that if the world turned over when it got upside down it would spill all the water from the wells and there would be the "damnedest scatterment of people you ever seed in all your born days." "Besides," he added, "I drove an ox-team all the way fr

At another time, he recounted to me a quarrel he had that forenoon with his neighbor for dogging his hogs. He explained that the altercation became so hot that he sprang the triggers and leveled his rifle. to my interruption, "In the name of God, D.C., you didn't kill a man about a few hogs?" "No," he nasally replied, " but I left him considerably cussed." Asked at another time why lightning rods were pointed, he readily answered, "You must rickollect that lightning is a mighty quare thing. It might strike a thousand times at that sharp pint before it could hit it." He once declined the gift of a circus ticket, saying, "I never went to but one show--It was when I was a boy in Missouri. I came to the conclusion that the damned things were got up to take money.

He accounted for the electric phenomena, puzzling to some scientists, that, brighter and larger than the Milky Way, several nights bisected it right-angularly, as being either "lazy lightning or a fast star that had outrun its shine."

In the year 1852, James Ashworth, the older brother of DC, crossed the country from Missouri along the Oregon Trail and settled in Mariposa for a while. His family moved to San Jose and was one of the first families to settle in that area. The Ashworth house still stands in that city and is listed on the National Historic Register of Places. Some of James' family moved north to San Francisco and survived the quake in 1906.

David and Jessina Ashworth added to their family in the next few years. The children in order of birth were Emma Jane, Martha Ann, Phenas, Joel Beauregard, Narcissa or Nora as she was called, Stonewall Jackson, Eliza America, and William Lee Ashworth. The older children, Louisa and David Marion, moved on. Louisa married John Milburn on June 5th, 1856. The Milburns had eight children. Times were hard back then in the town and disease and accidents were prevalent. The Milburns lost many of their children to both. One son that lived to adulthood, Joseph Milburn, married Lucy Peregoy, the daughter of Yosemite hotelier Charles Peregoy. Lucy became Mariposa's first librarian. David Marion married Mary Elizabeth Preston on October 23rd of 1872. David Marion moved his family north to Bear Valley. David Marion's daughter, Maude, married Frank Trabucco. Frank and Maude Trabucco ran a store and post office that still stands in Bear Valley today.

Emma Jane Ashworth married Joseph Dick on September 23, 1869. She was married seven days and then passed away. We do not know the details of this tragic event and it deserves further research.

Not much is known of Martha Ann Ashworth except that she moved south to Raymond and was a cook at the Wawona hotel for many years.

Phenas Ashworth became a rancher. In the book "Stagecoach to Yosemite" written by Annie Reynolds and Albert Gordon, relates the following;

Phenas Ashworth was left-handed and the fastest draw with a gun. He often brought the cows over the mountain in the summer and took them out again in October or November to lower pastures. Phenias' reputation as a fast draw was earned early in his youth.. Joaquin Murietta had been stealing horses from the Ashworth ranch in Mariposa County; he had to be apprehended. Young Phenias joined a posse in the chase after the troublesome outlaw, and although Murietta wasn't caught during that pursuit, his days were numbered.

The third son, Joel Beauregard Ashworth, was also known as Bouie Ashworth. He worked as a blacksmith and later built the Cannonball stagecoach that is now on display at the Mariposa History Center and Museum. Joel worked for many years at the Wawona Hotel.

Nora Ashworth married Tom Gordon, the son of Peter Gordon. Peter Gordon was one of the original Mariposa pioneers. He owned and operated the Gordon hotel in town for many years and was well known. Tom became one the Washburn brother's first stage coach drivers and drove the stage from Raymond to Wawona. The story of this family is told in the book "Stagecoach to Yosemite" co-written by Tom's grandson Albert Gordon. The book is a good source of information about the Ashworth family and relates Albert's experience of growing up in Wawona. Albert's father, Eddie Gordon, also became a stage driver on the Raymond to Wawona route. Eddie worked at the Wawona hotel for many years.

Stonewall Jackson Ashworth known by all as Jack Ashworth first worked for the Yosemite Stage and Transportation Company as a stable boy. At 24 he was promoted to stagecoach driver. Jack drove the stagecoach for 47 years and had the honor along with Tom and Eddie Gordon of driving the last stagecoach out of Wawona. From then on the route was driven by automobile. Jack Ashworth went on to live a long life and passed away in Merced at the age of 98.

Eliza America Ashworth married Lewis Wass. Lewis Wass came to California from West Virginia in the early 1880's. Lewis and Eliza settled on a portion of the DC Ashworth ranch. The ranch still owned by the Wass family is located off of Allred Road. Lewis was a farmer and sold vegetables to the stores in town. Eliza was a homemaker and raised a family of 6 children.

William Lee the youngest of the Ashworth children lived to the age of 36. He contracted Tuberculosis, which was common in that day.

William Lee was three years old when his father David passed away on December 25th of 1870. David C. Ashworth's obituary from the Mariposa Free Press reads as follows.

Mariposa Free Press, December 24, 1870 page 2 column 2

Jessina Ashworth would outlive her husband by many years. She lived to be 96 and passed away on April 26, 1922.

The Ashworth family is still remembered today in Mariposa. DC Ashworths cattle brand is on display at the Mariposa County courthouse and the family has the honor of having a local road named after them. Many descendants of this family still live in the area.

The author is the great-grandson of Lewis & Eliza Wass. He does not claim to be an authority on the above matters and has gleaned much of his information from vital statistics and published accounts. He welcomes any additions or corrections to the above information. Ashworth Mariposa Gazette, April 29, 1922 and May 6, 1922 Mrs. Fannie (Jessina White) Ashworth, a native of Ohio, aged 96 years, passed away at her home in the Sebastopol section Thursday night from the infirmities of old age. The funeral of Mrs. Fannie ASHWORTH which was held at Mariposa last Saturday morning was attended by a large number of relatives and friends coming from far and near to pay a last tribute of respect to this venerable lady, pioneer of 189, who was approaching her five score years. An appropriate and touching service, touching upon the upright and useful life that had been led by the deceased lady, was pronounced by Rev. F.M. BUCK while three of the old favorite gospel hymns were sung by the quartette. The flower laden casket was proceeded to the grave by James A.RIDGWAY, one of the very few remaining "forty- niners" in the county and members of the Native Daughters Parlor of Mariposa.Submitted by Mary Ashworth Phelan, ggranddaughter

Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Ashworth, Mariposa Gazette, March 16, 1907 Death of Estimable Lady Wife of David M. Ashworth died at her home at Sebastopol on the morning of March 10th from pneumonia. Mrs. Ashworth was a native of Missouri and 52 years of age. She came with her parents to California when a little girl, and was married to Mr. Ashworth in this county in 1872. Deceased was an estimable lady and rightfully claimed the respect and love of a large circle of intimate friends, to whom, as well as relatives, her death is sincerely deplored. In addition to a bereaved husband who was ever kind and affectionate, she leaves six children, three sons and three daughters, who mourn the loss of a loving and devoted mother. The children are: Francis E. ASHWORTH. Phineas W. ASHWORTH, Hazel ASHWORTH, all residents of Mariposa county. Other sorrowing relatives are Mrs. Fred CLARKE, Mrs. George GORDON and Mrs. G. E. HODGSON sisters, and Robert W. PRESTON, a brother. The interment was in the Mariposa public cemetery Tuesday at 2:30 p.m. the arrangements of which were conducted by undertaker Geo. E. NICE of Mt. Bullion. Rev. C. W. LONG of M. E. Church, South, officiated at the grave. The large funeral cortege of friends that followed the remains to their last resting place, eloquently attested the sincere veneration in which this Christian lady was held.

John F. ASHWORTH Mariposa Gazette Saturday January 17, 1920 submitted by Tom Hilk

Mariposa Young Man Dies In San Francisco. The many relatives and friends of John F. ASHWORTH were greatly shocked on last Wednesday afternoon when the sad news came over the wires from San Francisco, that he had passed away in the city at 1 o'clock p.m. of the same day from pleura-pneumonia. The young man had been living in the Yosemite up to a few weeks ago when he removed to San Francisco with his family on account of a sudden attack of illness. Up to this time he had been perfectly well and strong. This young man was born and reared near Mariposa and had spent his entire life in the county; with his parents, a few miles east of here up to six years ago and in Yosemite and El Portal since where he had been employed by a number of the different Park companies and where he was a trusted employee and a favorite with his associates. On June 5th 1913 he was married to Nettie OIIVER of El Portal. Beside a devoted wife and a foster child he leaves to mourn his death a father Phenias ASHWORTH, four brothers Phenias, Phenias, Ervin, George and Theodore all of Mariposa and a sister, Mrs Rose SMITH of Oakland and many near relatives in and near Mariposa. He was a straight forward and up righteous young man kind and devoted to his family. A sea of gloom has settled over the entire community on account of the untimely death of one so well and favorably known. Interment will be in the Catholic cemetery in Mariposa today at two o'clock p.m.
