F.M. MILLION

The premises of Francis Marion Million, in Polk township, while not elaborate, are well arranged and neatly kept. The house is a structure of 1-1/2 stories, in size, 16 x 28 ft. and 16 x 18 ft., with 8 ft. porch; the barn is 28 x 30 ft. in size, with 14 ft. posts and a 17 x 30 ft. shed on one side; repair shop, 14 x 16ft.; a good arch cellar, outbuildings, sheds cribs, etc., and one of the finest orchards in the county, consisting of 300 apple trees and about 500 peach trees. The farm consists of 80 acres, in section 26, township 66, range 41, eight miles north of Rock Port. He markets about fifty herd of fat cattle and a like number of fat hogs. annually.

Mr. Million was born in Washington County, TN, on Oct. 6, 1836, the son of John and Alice Million, and the oldest child in a family of 13. With his parents he came from TN to Nodaway County, MO, in his 20th year, and began farming on his own account in the year following. In 1863 he located in Atchison County, where he has since resided.

On April 4, 1858, he was married to Susan Atkinson, daughter of William and Susan Atkinson. She was born in Andrew County, MO, on May 23, 1838. Of this union 8 children were born, namely: William Charles S., Anna E.; Lloyd L.; John H.; Francis E.; Nettie L.; Lulu J.

Mr. and Mrs. Million have been members of the Baptist church about 50 years, and for many years have had fellowship with the High Creek congregation. Of that Sunday school Mr. Million was Superintendent 7 years. In politics he is a Democrat. During the Civil war he was a member of the Home Guards in Nodaway County, under Captain Downey and Lieutenant Sam Nash.

Grandma Atkinson, Mrs. Million's mother, lives with them - 98 years old.

9. NAPOLEON BONPARTE³ ATKINSON (WILLIAM ALEXANDER², WILLIAM¹) was born 15 Jan 1859 in Joplin, , Missouri, and died 31 Oct 1951 in Waitsburg, Walla Walla, WA¹¹. He married MARGARET HODGEN 19 Jul 1881 in Walla Walla, WA¹², daughter of JAMES HODGEN and REBECCA HARDESTY. She was born 15 Jul 1865 in Freewater, Umatilla, OR, and died 22 Apr 1944 in Waitsburg, Walla Walla, WA.

Notes for NAPOLEON BONPARTE ATKINSON:

Walla Walla Union Bulletin (Walla Walla, Washington) > 1950 > November > 1 page 5

N.B. Atkinson, Area Pioneer, Dies at Age 91

N.B. "Bony" Atkinson, who came to this area via steamer and the old Baler railroad in 1879, died Tuesday at the home of a daughter at Waitsburg.

He was 91 years old at the time of his death and had been well known in Walla Walla county as a dairyman, wheat raiser, legislator and county commissioner.

Born January 15, 1859, in St. Joseph, MO, he was educated in Jackson, CA, where his family had migrated. In 1879 he left San Francisco by boat for Portland and Wallula and settled near Helix, OR, where he farmed on a homestead for several years.

He married Margaret Hodgen, the daughter of a Umapine pioneer family and moved to the state line area where he entered the dairy business, continuing that until 1899. Just before the turn of the century, the Atkinsons moved to Waitsburg and took up the dairy business again. A few years later, "Bony" - for his given name, Napoleon Bonaparte - took up wheat raising which he continued until his retirement in 1920.

He was one of the main organizers of the Waitsburg Farmers Union, holding the office of state president in that organization for several years.

Atkinson also served on the Waitsburg school board several years in the state house of representatives for two terms and six years as a county commissioner. A charter member of Nasburg lodge No. 91, F. and A.M. at Helix, he also was a member of Waitsburg lodge No. 16, having been master of the Helix lodge once and three times master of the Waitsburg lodge.

He was preceded in death by his wife, two daughters, and a son and since his wife's passing in 1944, had made his home with a daughter, Mrs. Gene Ray, at Waitsburg.

Surviving are sons, Van of Prosser, Pete and Lewis of Walla Walla, Zo of San Jose, CA, and Jack of Bakersfield; daughters, Mrs. Verna Hampton of Navarro, CA, and Mrs. Nellie Ray of Waitsburg; brothers Ike of Walla Walla and P.L. Atkinson of Los Angeles. Several grandchildren and great-grandchildren also survive.

Walla Walla Union Bulletin (Walla Walla, Washington) > 1949 > May > 8 page 15

Napoleon Bonaparte Atkinson is the man who owned the wheat field in which the tim-test on standing wheat to buscuits, was run in 1968. "Boney" as he is affectionately known, reached his 90th birthday anniversary last January 15, 1949.

Notes for JACK ATKINSON:

Walla Walla Union Bulletin (Walla Walla, Washington) > 1969 > July > 24 page 5

JACK ATKINSON, 58, 202 Willard, died Thursday morning at a local hospital.

Born Sept. 13, 1910 in Waitsburg, he had been a resident of the Waitsburg and Walla Walla Area most of his life.

For eight years, Atkinson was employed by the Standard Oil Company in Saudi Arabia. Following that, he was employed by the U.S. Government as a construction worker in Madrid, Spain. Here he met and married Antonia M. Medina in 1956. Since his return to Walla Walla, he was employed for eight years prior to his illness as custodial officer for the Washinton State Penitentiary.

Atkinson was a veteran on WWII, having served with the Seabees of the U.S. Navy. He was a member of the American Legion.

Besides his widow he is survived by two daughter, Marisa and Wendy Lynn and two sons, Jack Jr. and James Michael, all at the home, two sisters, Mrs. Verna Hampton of San Francisco, CA and Mrs. Nellie Ray of Waitsburg, and one brother, Pete M. Atkinson of Walla Walla. A number of nieces and nephews also survive.

Driving Band of 18,000 Sheep To Wyoming Was Feat of 1882

Although he doesn't know for sure whether he was born "on the move" in a wagon of "inside of four walls", Ike Atkinson, who marked his 92nd Birthday last month, is certain he was born in Nebraska and the date was Mar. 6, 1862.

The oldest likely was born in a wagon, for that conveyance was to be his lot for two long hauls while he was still a youngster.

When Atkinson was seven, the family was loaded into a canvas-topped "schooner" in 1869 to head out from St. Joseph, MO to California.

That was in May and August "we hit a town called Jackson, 40-50 miles south and east of Sacramento.

Four or five years later the family moved on, this time to Stockton. And in 1878 "another long wagon drag" was undertaken when "we lit out for Washington Territory."

Indian "Scare"

The Atkinson brood left Lodi, Calif. in May of that year and the following month arrived in Walla Walla. Atkinson recalled there was some trouble with Indians at the time, with many soldiers here and there, but minimized it by calling it "mostly a scare, though."

Except for a brief stay in Idaho, where he farmed near Moscow, Atkinson has made Walla Walla pretty much his "headquarters". From here he went out as a young man of 20 to take a big band of sheep to Wyoming; he farmed in Umatilla County and was a farm equipment operator in that county, in Walla Walla county and in adjacent counties.

It was early in May of 1882 that the young Atkinson joined a crew of twelve hired to drive 18,000 sheep from Arlington, Oregon to a town forty miles from Cheyenne, Wyoming. Time-wise, he recalled: "We started out about May 30 and got back to Walla Walla just after election day in November."

6,000 Sheep Per Crew

The twelve men and the 18,000 sheep were broken up into bands of 6,000 with four men per band. Dave Harrer was the owner and Bill Courtney of Walla Walla was the trip organizer, charged with buying supplies and the many other details of getting such a journey underway and moving.

The six-month drive was termed a "real lonely" undertaking by Atkinson, who recalled that "we'd go a month without seeing a soul . . . only those within our own outfit."

Of the start of the trek, Atkinson will have no trouble ever recalling. He remembers leaving Walla Walla and reaching Arlington, the "takeoff" point, about midnight and of seeing the thousands of woolies being sheared "right on Main Street." But most of all Atkinson recalls that the night was a bitterly cold one with a raw, chilling wind blowing gusts of dust over and into everything."

Into Blue Mtns.

The bleating, blatting, baa-ing bunch of sheep left Arlington, by-passed Pendleton and struck off Pilot Rock and Meacham, coming out at La Grande. From here the woolies were herded down the Grande Ronde Valley to Union, Baker, crossed the Rockies at South Pass City (" . . . can't even find the town on a map today") and continued on across Idaho to their destination. They stayed to the mountain regions as much as possible all the way, said Atkinson.

Of the trip across the mountains, Atkinson remembered the many times the herdsmen would have to help weak or small sheep over fallen trees and through thick underbrush in the snowbound regions and of the Indian Squaws who would try to collect a 'rangeland fee' for crossing over the reservation lands.

In the Grande Ronde Valley country Atkinson recalled more immigrants whose balky mules were laying down on the job of carrying wagonloads westward. "We'd throw rocks at the mules to get 'em up and going", eh explained.

By Steamer 'Oregon'

The return trip to Walla Walla was by horse, boat and train. The herdsmen left San Francisco on the steamer "Oregon" for a three-day trip up the coast to Portland, boarded another river boat to come up the Columbia. At the portage around The Dalles it was back to a train then onto another boat and finally back to another train at Wallula. The last mode of transportation was Dr. Baker's Walla Walla and Columbia River Railroad.

Atkinson probably was cured of any desire to follow the sea when the "Oregon" was forced to wait several hours at the mouth of the Columbia before a favorable incoming tide came " . . . didn't like that a bit." he said.

He's moved around a bit, but by and large, Ike Atkinson has been in the Walla Walla country for 76 years . . . "a heck of a long time in one place."
