Notes for ADAM HEINRICH BRINKER:

The Kuechenmeister and Brinker families, Printed 1962, Pg 21

Adam Heinrich died as a result of wounds incurred during the Napoleonic War. His son, Claus Henrich told his oldest daughter, mathilde, in later years that his mother, Maria Elisabeth, had mad a "Kniefall" (feel on her knees) before Napoleon. If she made a request, it apparently not granted.

Children of ADAM BRINKER and MARIE TRENMANN are:

Generation No. 2

2. CLAUS HEINRICH² BRINKER (ADAM HEINRICH¹) was born 16 Jun 1818 in OanabruECK, Kingdom ofHanover, and died 06 Jan 1905 in 86 yrs, 6 months, and 20 days. He married ANNA MARIE AMELIA WILMES in Paris, France. She was born 25 Jan 1818 in Grand Duchy of Luxembourg, and died 26 Sep 1899 in Wisconsin.

Notes for CLAUS HEINRICH BRINKER:

The Kuechenmeister and Brinker families, Printed 1962, Pg 23

At about the age of nine, due to the death of his father, Heinrich Brinker was adopted by a Catholic Priest in Ostercappeln, with whom he lived until the age of fourteen, at which time he was apprenticed to a tailor, being the eldest son of a tailor. He regretted all his life that he had not been permitted to become a cabinetmaker.

As a journeyman tailor, he traveld in the Rhine country, Switzerland and France. He spent some years in Paris and was acquainted with Heinrich Heine, the poet.

Heinrich joined the revolutionary movement in France against Louis Philippe. He told in later years that he and Amelie were present when the enraged citizens of Paris stormed and sacked the Palace of the King. After the dethronement of Louis Philippe in 1848, a Republic was proclaimed and Louis Napoleon, nephew of Napoleon Bonaparte, was elected first president. Napoleon was ambitious to become emperor, and Heinrich again became active, politically, against this movement. Then, finding himself subject to arrest, he fled to America in 1850. He was followed by his wife and two daughters six months later. They lived in New York on Broadway for a year; and then, with a group of French and Belgian people, settled in the Town of Fredonia (then Washington County), Wisconsin, about a mile from the Village of Waubeka. The group started a store in the Town of Fredonia which did not prove to be successful.

After a short time, Heinrich bought out the other members of the group; and then, not being a farmer, leased his acreage in Fredonia and went to Chicago to work at his trade. Before his retirement, he owned his own tailor shop there in the Sherman Hotel. The family remained in Fredonia during these years. Chief Waubekee of the Pottawatomies had his encampment in the Town of Fredonia; and whenever Heinrich, on his hunting trips, met the Chief, they delighted in exchanging greetings in French.

Heinrich's interests were history, woodwork, and hunting. He was a great student of history and predicted horseless carriages, flying machines and a world war, for which he was ridiculed by his acquaintances. The first district school the Brinker children attended (and where Heinrich's daughter, Mathilde, first taught) in the Town of Fredonia was the one at which the idea of Flag Day was later originated. Mathilde started teaching at the age of 16. The mail which brought her first Teacher's Certificate also brought the news that Abraham Lincoln, whom she had seen in Chicago, had been assassinated. She also saw Stephen Douglas as he lay in state.

This is a transcription of a hand written three page letter on the life of Heinrich Brinker written by his daughter, Mrs. G.A. Kuechenmeister (Mathilde Marie) at the time of her father's death. Heinrich Brinker died last Friday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. G.A. Kuechenmeister, after a brief illness. A few days previous to his death, he slipped on the kitchen floor and this fall together with old age, hastened his death.

Heinrich Brinker was born June 16, 1818, at Oanabrueck, Hanover, Germany. When he was 6 yrs of age his father died and he was adopted by a Catholic priest, in whose home he spent a happy childhood, and where he attended school until he attained age 14 yrs (he was one of 13 children). After his confirmation his mother was summoned to a council that was to decide what trade he should be apprenticed, and he being the eldest child, she decided that he should learn his father's trade, that of tailoring. After having served his master faithfully for the term of his apprenticeship, he took up his staff as "Handwerksburche" and set out into the great, strange world. He took a southwestern course from his native town until he reached Crefeld, and from there traveled 2 yrs through the Rhine country, making longer and shorter stays at Elberfeld, Duesseldorf, Salingen, Cablentz, Bingen, and many other places. He spent 2 yrs in Switzerland, making his longest stay in Schoffhauses, Zuerich, Appenzell, Lucerne, Bern, and Neufchatel. From Lausanne he entered France. After spending several months at different minor towns, he reached Paris where, with the exception of 6 mos spent at Lyons, he lived 15 yrs.

Besides working at his trade he took up the studies of phrenology and history, frequenting places where lectures were given on these and kindred subjects. In this way he became acquainted with many noted men among whom he counted Heinrich Heine as an intimate acquaintance. It was here that he married Anna Marie Amelia Wilmes. Here 4 children were born to them as follows: Elise and Heinrich (who died in infancy), Mathilde Marie (Mrs. G.A. Kuechenmeister) and Marie (Mrs. Peter Bechius).

After the fall of Louis Phillippe in 1848 he took an active part in the anti-Napoleonic movement and one day, being informed that his name appeared on the list of persons to be arrested for political activity, he fled to America where he was joined 6 months later by his family. Together with Jacques Reding and wife, M. Audier, Francois Bernard and another French family by the name of Le Spre, they all came to Wisconsin where they bought 120 acres of land in the town of Fredonia, Ozaukee County. Before many weeks passed it was apparent that not one of the small band was fitted to force a livelihood! from the wilderness and all went elsewhere to seek more congenial occupations. His wife, preferred to remain on the farm with the children. He bought up the shares of his friends and established a home for them, then went to Chicago where he conducted a merchant tailoring establishment from 1853 until 1865. Then he spent 9 yrs on his farm in Fredonia, and after that 5 yrs at Colby and since 1879 he has lived with his children, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Keuchenmeister at Kewaskum and West Bend, where he died on the 6th day of January 1905, age 86 yrs, 6 months, and 20 days. Mrs. Brinker preceded her husband in death in September 1899. In addition to the children above mentioned, he left his surviving sons, Henry and Charles, now of Oregon, Emma (Mrs. H.J. Blanchard) of Colby Wisconsin, and Louisa (Mrs. Deane) of Chicago, and 26 grand children.

FRED FREYMAN; b. Samiten, Latvia; d. 16 Jan 1932.

Notes for CLARA LOUISA KUECHENMEISTER:

The Kuechenmeister and Brinker families, Printed 1962, Pg 7

Clara and Fred spent the World War I years (1914-1918) in Latvia, Finland, and Petrograd (now Leningrad), Russia. They reached Fred's homeland just two weeks before war was declared. Latvia at that time belonged to Russia and, although a naturalized American citizen, Fred had thought it best to return as a native of Latvia, since Russia did not recognize any other citizenship. They lived in Petrograd during the dangerous and exciting days when the monarchy fell, the Kerensky government came into power, and when the Bolsheviks took over. After America and Russia had severed diplomatic relations, Clara saw the last trainload of American leave (on a train she could have taken). Then she and Fred began to more earnestly work out a plan whereby they could escape together. On a pretext, they managed to get passports as Russians bound for Mexico and escaped by boat the day before Fred was to report for duty in the Bolshevik army. The trip, which took them to Stockholm, Sweden, was a hazardous one. After arriving, they were allowed to remain only 24 hours, because of food shortages. From there, they made their way to Oslo, Norway, where they stayed for some time, finally reaching West Bend on Christmas Eve, 1918. Fred wrote an article for the Western Electric News on conditions in Russia. This article was reprinted in the Literary Digest, May, 1919.

She married AVERY ROY ROBERTS 08 Mar 1936 in Alaska, son of FRANKLIN ROBERTS and ANNA ?. He was born 25 Aug 1892 in Oregon, and died 15 Mar 1975 in Anchorage, Anchorage, AK⁸⁷.

Notes for MAXINE GLORIA BECKIUS:

Anchorage Daily News January 26, 2005

Maxine Roberts, 95

Pioneer Alaskan and longtime Anchorage resident Maxine Roberts, 95, died Jan. 22, 2005, at the Anchorage Pioneers' Home of natural causes.

A memorial service will be at 2 p.m. Friday at First Presbyterian Church, 616 W. 10th Ave.

Mrs. Roberts was born Nov. 4, 1909, in Prairie City, Ore., to Anna and Henry Beckius.

After graduating from nursing school, she accepted a position at Seward Methodist Hospital and came to Alaska on the S.S. Yukon in spring 1935. She immediately began caring for quarantined colonist children who had come down with the measles.

She married Seward dentist A.R. Roberts in 1936 and lived in Kodiak until 1942. They lived in Anchorage in the same house on Barrow Street for 50 years.

Mrs. Roberts took great joy in gardening and serving her own vegetables, pies and preserves. Her raspberry bushes were shared with many friends, who grew them elsewhere.

Her family wrote: "Maxine's faith in Jesus Christ was very strong. She was a member of First Presbyterian Church for 60 years and was active in the Lillie Berry Circle.

"Other organizations she joined were the League of Women Voters, Anchorage Pioneers of Alaska, World War I Ladies' Auxiliary of Jack Henry Post 1, and FISH.

"Maxine was especially hospitable to those who (enjoyed) a home-cooked meal. She invited young military couples, old bachelors and people coming in from the villages. She was definitely the nurturing type, and she watched out for the underdog. She loved Red Foley's song, 'If I Can Help Somebody.'

"She was well-known for her love of animals and she had many throughout her life, especially a black Lab named Beauty."

Mrs. Roberts is survived by her daughter, Averill Horvath; son-in-law, Daniel Horvath; sister, Charlotte Smith; nephew, Christopher Jay, and his family, Mardra, Hope, Christopher and Pohaku; nephews, Steve Jay, John Jay, Joseph Richards, Jim Stanton, Richard Stanton and Robert Miller; niece, Penny Hendrix; and sister-in-law, Doris Beckius.

She was preceded in death by her husband, Dr. Avery Roberts; sisters, Roxanna Beckius, Mary Stanton Fream, Juanita Jay, Anna Richards; and brother, Raymond Beckius.

Arrangements are with Evergreen Memorial Chapel.

Notes for CHRISTOPHER EDWARD JAY:

The following Christmas Letter was given to the museum to be added to this site by Chris Jay with his permission.

Christmas Letter 2005

2005 was a year of transition for this family, and we arrive at the end of it happy to be with one another for the holidays. We began with a goodbye to our beloved aunt, Maxine Roberts who died in January. Margie and Chris attended the Inaugural festivities of Thomas Hochstetler as the new president of Lewis and Clark College. It was beautiful March weekend in Portland, and brought to a full circle Chris's role as part of the presidential search committee for Lewis and Clark College.

Hope graduated in May from the University of Southern California, she finished her career at USC in three and a half years. Margie's brother Quincy* hosted a lovely and unforgettable evening dinner at his home in Bel Air. Hope began work with Capital Guardian Trust Company, the parent company of American Funds Group. She currently is with the institutional side of the business in their headquarters office in downtown Los Angeles.

Christopher was our next graduate, and his big day was on Margie's birthday in June. After four years as Culver Military Academy cadet, he graduated as the coveted "four year man." He was Drum Major of the marching band, a big honor at Culver; and co-captain of the crew team as well. Graduation weekend at Culver is full of tradition and reunions and parties, and last over three days. It is quite the occasion. He is now near completion of his first term at Seattle University, and enjoying it very much.

Our oldest Po continues to work at the mortgage company Ditech at their Costa Mesa, California Center. He and very special friends came home for Thanksgiving, and wanted to have it here in Anchorage with snow and cold weather. Some memories are very strong for Alaska kids, no matter how old they are, or where they may eventually live and work.

Margie was honored with some other "pioneers" of aviation at a very special event in the fall in New York City. She was honored at a dinner sponsored by Northwest Airlines and the Black Flight Attendant

Association of America for helping to break the color barrier for women and men of color in the industry. She and others invited there were typically the first black flight attendants hired by their perspective carriers. Alaska Airlines provided transportation and lodging for us, and also sent a delegation from the company too. It was a quite the honor, and recognition by her peers and former employer.

Chris will mark his 30th year at Merrill Lynch a few days before Christmas, and is very grateful to all of those he has known as clients, friends and coworkers during these three decades. The contact with so many splendid people has been a great gift.

We have lost some very close friends this past year to illness, some expected, and some completely by surprise. Our hearts have been saddened each time, but Christmas is the season for the birth of hope. We continue to believe in that thought, and pray that you do as well.
