Generation No. 2

2. WALTER SCOTT² BROWN (DANIEL P¹) was born 12 Apr 1833 in Charleston, Coles, IL, and died 02 Jun 1908 in Milton, Umatilla, OR. He married MARIA CLARRISSA FAY 13 Nov 1860 in Juneau, Wisconsin¹, daughter of HARRISON FAY and ISABELLA KINGSTON. She was born 25 Aug 1836 in Racine, Racine, WI, and died 26 Jun 1916 in Milton, Umatilla, OR.

Notes for WALTER SCOTT BROWN:

Trail Of The Pioneers

Milton's first lumber mill was initiated in 1874 by Walter Scott Brown and his partner, Johnathon Talbert. The Talbert- Brown Chop mill stood on what is now S.E. Ninth Street, near the Rogers-WallaWalla Canning Company. Brown hailed from Wisconsin, where he was born on April 12, 1833. Little did he know that he was to be a valuable pioneer of the Milton-Freewater area when he moved out here in 1864.

As a young man, Brown worked in The woods of Fond Du Lac, Wisconsin, floating logs down the Fox River to Chicago, Illinois. On Nov. 13, 1860 he married Maria Clarrissa Fay in Racine, where she was born On August 25, 1836. The family headed west four years after their marriage along with their two daughters. They traveled by wagon train. Along the way they stopped at Cowl Crossing where Daniel Frank, their first son was born. The Browns arrived in Milton in the fall of 1864.

Later Walter Brown and his son in law, Frank Hull, bought The Milton Eagle from a party named Brewster. He owned and published the newspaper for twelve or fifteen years. He later sold the publication to his son, Winfield, who managed the newspaper until 1908.

The Brown family donated a parcel of land to the city of Milton. Part of the donation now is located on S.W. Sixth St. and formerly known as Brown Street.

Walter Brown and his wife Clarrissa lived in Milton until his death on June 2, 1908. Mrs. Brown died on June 26, 1916.

Obituary 1908 Milton Eagle

Another pioneer of Milton goes to a well earned rest

Green be the grass above thee

Friend of better days

None knew thee but to love thee

None named thee but to praise

Tears fell when thou were dying

From eyes unused to weep

And long where thou art lying

Will tears the cold earth steep

It becomes the sad duty of the Eagle to chronicle the death of the father of its publisher, Walter Scott Brown, who departed this life Wednesday June 3, 1908 at 8:40 A.M. after an illness of almost a year. His illness and death were caused by complications of diseases, superinduced by heart disease. Although suffering intensely at times he bore his long sickness with recognition and even cheerfulness and faced the inevitable end with a calmness vouchsafed only to those with a knowledge that their lives have been well lived. The end came peacefully and he went to his last long sleep as easily as a tired child finds slumber in his mother's arms.

Walter Scott Brown was born in Springfield, Illinois in 1833 and at the time of his death was 75 years, 1 month and 21 days old. When he was 15 years old he went with his parents to the then frontier state of Wisconsin, the family locating at Stevens Point, where his two sisters yet reside and where his mother and two brothers are buried. In early life he followed the occupation of raftsmen on the Wisconsin and Mississippi Rivers and made many trips to St. Louis and New Orleans with loads of lumber. His education was finished at Indianapolis, Indiana and he was a graduate of Bryants Community Collage of that city.He was married to Maria Fay November 30,1860 in Racine,Wisconsin where his daughters were born.....unreadable....plains to Oregon.It took six months to make the trip He located on land on the Walla Walla river a few miles below Milton and returned to Wisconsin for his family who accompanied him here the following year.Shortly after returning to Oregon he took up a homestead on Russell creek in Walla Walla county,Washington where he lived a few years after which he returned to Oregon,this time locating on the Walla Walla River about ten miles above Milton.There he engaged in stock raising and for a time he conducted a saw mill.Many of the first buildings in Milton being constructed of lumber furnished by him.In 1878 he came to Milton and in the company with John Talbert built the first shingle and chop mill in Milton. Shortly after he purchased Mr. Talbert's interest in the mill and conducted the business until a few years ago.He established the first butcher shop in Milton constructing the building,which still stands on main street,with his own hands.

He was identified with the business life of Milton since its infancy and was a member of the towns first board of councilmen.Quiet and unassuming in his ways his friends numbered all who knew him and the high esteem in which he was held is best shown by the tribute of a friend who had known him for more than a quarter of a century and who comparing him with his own father,also deceased,said: If either of them ever did a wrong in his life it was because he did not know it.

In his death the community loses an honorable upright citizen and his widow and his children lose an always kind and just husband and father.He will ever live in the hearts of all of them. At his own request services were held at the family residence.Rev. B.J. Hoadley of the Methodist Episcopal church officiating.Interment was made in the city cemetery.

Besides his widow he leaves to mourn his loss a daughter,Mrs. Anna Hull of Portland ; five sons D.F.,C.E.,H.F.,Winfield S. and D.C. and two sisters Mrs.Geo.W.Cale and Mrs.Henry Oate, of Stevens point Wisconsin,besides several grandchildren

Mrs. Brown was a well known and liked lady,being active in the life of the city.At the time of her death she was living with a son seven miles up the north fork.Old age and complications were the cause of her death she being sick for some time previous.She died in the afternoon of June 26,1916 at the age of 79 years and 10 months.

Harper officiating.Interment was made in the old city cemetary.The body was taken care of at the Munselle undertaking parlor in Milton. 4. LEVARA² BROWN (*DANIEL P*¹) was born 12 Feb 1836 in Charleston, Coles, IL, and died Aug 1916. She married GEORGE WASHINGTON CATE 24 Oct 1850 in Steven's Point, Wisconsin, son of ISAAC CATE and CLARISSA MCKNIGHT. He was born 17 Sep 1825 in Montpelier, Washington County, Vermont, and died 07 Mar 1905.

Notes for LEVARA BROWN:

George W. Cate and Miss Levara S. Brown were married in this city October 24, 1850, and first went to housekeeping in a house Judge Cate, then a young practicing attorney, had built in Plover; the one now occupied by Dr. George D. Whiteside in that village. From that time to this the family has ranked among the most prominent and best known in the county. During these years Mrs. Cate has witnessed many changes in the population as well as in other things, but she has at all times enjoyed the friendship of all who knew her and all will unite in the wish that she may live to receive the congratulations of her friends for many years to come.

MRS. G.W. CATE DIES

One of City's Oldest Residents Passes Away After Long Illness.

Mrs. G. W. Cate passed away at her home, 1026 Clark street at 10 o'clock Monday evening, death being caused by heart trouble. The deceased had been a resident of the city for sixty-nine years, and was in the eightieth year of her age. She had been in poor health for the last three months, during which time she was confined to her bed.

Levara S. Brown was born in Charleston, Coles County, Ill., on the 12th of February, 1836. In 1857 the family moved to this city, where she had resided practically all of the time since. Her father, Daniel P. Brown, was one of Steven's Point's pioneer settlers, being engaged in the lumber business in this vicinity. He was also the proprietor of a hotel here for a number of years.

In 1850, she was married to G. W. Cate, who for many years was one of the city's most prominent professional men. He held the position of circuit judge for twenty-four years, after which he was elected a member of Congress from the eighth Congressional district. Following this, Mr. Cate practiced law in the city up to the time of his death, in March, 1905.

Those who survive are one sister, Mrs. Henry Cate of Stockton, and six children, as follows: Albert G. Cate, Phoenix, Ariz., Lynn B. Cate, Minneapolis, Mrs. W. J. Cronyn, Milwaukee, Henry B. Cate, Phoenix Ariz., Mrs. G.M. Dahl, New York City, and Miss Ruth Cate of this city.

Funeral services will be held from the family home Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, with interment in Forest Cemetery. Rev. E. Croft Gear, rector of the Episcopal Church of the Intercession, of which the deceased had for a long period of years been a devoted member, will officiate. Hymns will be sung by Miss Kate Ball.

Notes for GEORGE WASHINGTON CATE:

Wisconsin Men of Progress

The Cate-Cates family of New England Judge Cate was married on the 24th of October, 1850, to Miss Levara S. Brown of Stevens Point, and they have had eight children, six of whom are still living.

He has taken great interest in that portion of the state where he lives; has written interestingly for local publications concerning the early settlement of the region and its history, and has done much for its industrial development and its social and educational progress. He has been a member of the official board of visitors of the state university, regent of the normal school, and in many other ways has served the public interests. An effort was made last fall to draw him again into politics, but, refusing for a time, he finally accepted the nomination for congress on the Democratic ticket and also presidential elector-at-large. He was defeated, however, probably not much to his regret, for he is more of a lawyer than a politician.

He is the senior member of the law firm of Cate, Sanborn, Lamoreux & Park of Stevens Point.[p.290]

Dr. W. J. Cronyn Dead

Prominent Milwaukeean, Husband of Former Stevens Point Lady, Passes away

Dr. William Jerome Cronyn, one of Wisconsin's most distinguished and patriotic citizens and son-in-law of the late Judge and Mrs. G.W. Cate of Stevens Point, died at his home 131 Fourteenth street, Milwaukee, last Wednesday after an illness of three weeks.

The body was brought to Stevens Point Saturday, arriving in the afternoon. It was taken immediately to Forest cemetery, where burial took place. Rev. Arthur H. Lord, rector of St. James Episcopal church of Milwaukee, officiated at the service at the grave. At Milwaukee funeral services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Lord at the Cronyn home Friday afternoon.

Those who accompanied the body to this city, in addition to Rev. Mr. Lord, were the widow, his sister, Mrs. G.M. Dahl, of New York City, and Dr. Cronyn's sister, Miss Mary M. Cronyn of Rochester, N.Y. They returned to Milwaukee the same afternoon.

Dr. Cronyn was a native of the province of Ontario, Canada and was 68 years of age last Nov. 15. When he was but 15 years of age he enlisted in Co. A, 30th Michigan Infantry, for service in the civil war. In 1870 he was graduated from the medical department of Buffalo University and from 1873 to 1876 was assistant surgeon in the United States navy. He took up his residence at Milwaukee in 1893 and for twenty years filled the chair of medical jurisprudence at Marquette University in that city.

Although a Canadian by birth, no native-born American was more proud of his citizenship in the United States than Dr. Cronyn. He took a leading part in patriotic work of all kinds. Last spring, at the Loyalty

Day celebration in Stevens Point, he delivered a stirring address at the court house square. He was a commanding figure in any gathering.

Commenting on his death, the Milwaukee Evening Wisconsin said, in part:

"He was a member of E.B. Wolcott post, and was assistant surgeon of the Wisconsin National guard, with the rank of captain, until he reached retiring age. As a member of Gov. McGovern's staff he continued in the service of the guard beyond the age limit.

"Dr. Cronyn was a thirty-second degree Mason. At the time of his death he was a member of the Council of the Boy Scouts of America, and next to his love for the flag came his enthusiasm and belief in that movement. He was also president of Wisconsin Loyalty League chapter in the Fourth and Second wards." The following tribute to Dr. Cronyn was paid by W. H. Richardson, a leading Milwaukee citizen and friend of Dr. Cronyn for twenty years:

"No man of the city or state will be missed more in military and patriotic circles than he. Successful as a physician and surgeon, he was most widely known as an officer of our national guard. For many years he was surgeon of the Light Horse squadron. He was a fine horseman and a commanding figure in all of the evolutions of his troop. Only two months ago he was marshal of the day in the parades for the Liberty -- an and farewell to our selectmen when they left for the front.

"He was active in promoting the Wisconsin Loyalty legion and his last appearance at the Grand Army post a few weeks ago was to ask the use of Memorial hall for that organization. He was ever ready with tongue and pen to speak and work for his country. In his death a loyal patriot has passed to his reward. We shall all miss him."

Dr Cronyn's wife was Miss Carrie Cate. His sister, Miss Mary M. Cronyn of Rochester, N.Y., is the only other near relative surviving.

Dr. Cronyn occasionally visited in Stevens Point and had a close, though limited, personal acquaintance here. The following local friends served as pall bearers at the funeral Saturday: B. B. Park, George R. Nelson, R. A. Cook, W.W. Mitchell, G. L. Park and Alex Krembs.

Gerhard M. Dahl Dead, Rose to Millionaire

Funeral services were held Thursday in New York city for Gerhad M. Dahl, 77, a Stevens Point attorney in his young manhood who later became a financial giant and millionaire in New York. He was former chairman of the board of the Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit corporation, at one time was a partner in a leading brokerag house and director of a dozen big corporations.

Mr. Dahl died Tuesday in Brooklyn hospital after an illness of six weeks. He lived at 920 Fifth Avenue. Partner in Law Firms.

Born at Fort Howard, Brown county, Mr. Dahl was educated in public schools and received a law degree from the University of Wisconsin in 1896. He came to Stevens Point after practicing law at Waupaca. He became a partner of his father-in-law, George W. Cate, a former circuit judge here, and the firm was known as Cate and Dahl. George B. Nelson, who later became a member of the state supreme court, joined the firm, which became Cate, Dahl and Nelson. Following the death of Judge Cate, Mr. Dahl and Mr. Nelson continued the law partnership. Mr. Dahl was also a former district attorney of Portage county. He left Stevens Point to go to Cleveland, Ohio, where he accepted a city appointment, and from there went to New York.

Writes of his success

In a recent autobiography for a Sunday newspaper supplement. Mr. Dahl referred to his career as that of "the smalltown boy from Wisconsin" an traced it " as a struggling lawyer, a street railway commissioner in Cleveland and in 1912 a brash invader of New York financial strongholds."

By 1924, he recalled, "I was termed an outstanding man, financially. I was a partner in a leading brokerage house, chairman of the board of the B.M.T. and director of a dozen huge corporations. I was a millionaire."

Directed Subway Network.

Mr. Dahl went to New York as vice president of the Electric Bond and Share company, and after five years became a vice president of the Chase National bank. In 1923 he became a partner in Hayden, Stone & Co. severing his connections with this firm at the end of 1925 to devote himself to his B.M.G. chairmanship, a post he held until 1943. The Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit corporation, operating in New York subway network, was absorbed into the municipally-owned system in the late 1930s.

Among the companies of which he was a director were the American Foreign Banking corporation, Pierce-Arrow Motor Car company, Pittsburgh Utilities corporation and Postal Telegraph company. In 1946 he served briefly as president of the Panhandle Producing and Refining company.

He was a member of the Racquet and Tennis, Metropolitan and Union League clubs in New York. His first wife, the former Georgianna Cate, died in 1949. She was a sister of Miss Ruth Cate, 441 Church street. The Cate home for many years was at 1026 Clark street.

OLDEST RESIDENT HERE

Mrs. Henry Cate, Who Came to Portage County 71 years Ago, Passes Away at Home in Stockton

Frances Brown Cate, widow of the late Henry Cate, pioneer lumberman and farmer, died very unexpectedly at 8 o'clock this morning at the family home near Stockton station, where she had resided continuously for the past sixty years.

Mrs. Cate was taken with bowel and stomach troubles last Sunday afternoon, a physician being called early that evening and remedies applied that would under ordinary conditions have effected a cure quickly. The lady seemed to get along fairly well all day Monday and rested quite well last night, but a sudden change for the worse took place at 6 o'clock this morning and she sank quite fast until the end. She retained consciousness until almost the last moment and conversed with those about her bedside.

Frances Brown was born in Iowa, near Dubuque, 81 years ago. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Brown and sister, Lavira moved to Stevens Point when Frances was ten years of age and few months later the father went south on a business trip, was taken with yellow fever at New Orleans and died there.

In 1855 the now deceased lady was married to Henry Cate, who at that time was associated with Jos. Dessert in the lumber business, operating near Mosinee. Four years later Mr. Cate bought a tract of land in Stockton, township, where he developed one of the best farms in the county and continued to operate it until his death on Aug 29th, 1893. Mrs. Cate had since resided on the old homestead, which is also the home of her oldest son, D. C. Cate and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Cate were the parents of four children, one of whom died in infancy. Those surviving are D. C. Cate, Geo. Cate of Phoenix, Arizona, and Walter S. Cate of Ashland. As sister of the deceased was the wife of Judge Geo. W. Cate, former prominent local attorney and jurist.

While of an apparently frail physical constitution, Mrs. Cate possessed a mentality, that was especially strong, and she had long been regarded as one of the county's brightest women. In her home circle she had the love and admiration of all who knew her.

Funeral services will be conducted at the Cate home on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. G. M. Calhoun of St. Paul's M. E. Church officiating. The remains will then be laid to rest in the private burial grounds on the Cate farm.

Walter S. Cate and family are here from Ashland but the other son, George, will be unable to come from Arizona.

7. DANIEL FRANK³ BROWN (WALTER SCOTT², DANIEL P¹) was born 06 Nov 1864 in Cows Crossing, Umatilla, OR, and died 12 Jun 1942 in Milton, Umatilla, OR. He married EMMA LOUISE SAMPLE 24 Oct 1886 in Umatilla County, OR, daughter of AMANDA MELVINA HARGISON. She was born Abt. 1870 in Milton, Umatilla, OR, and died Jan 1938 in Milton, Umatilla, OR.

Notes for DANIEL FRANK BROWN:

Newspaper (1968)

City Light and power observes 80th birthday

When Daniel Frank Brown interrupted his family's migration to California by arriving on the scene a little ahead of schedule, he could hardly have realized the impact the unplanned stop would make.

It would be 24 years before young Brown would turn entrepreneur and begin producing electricity to light his father's mill and selling the excess to his neighbors for profit. Even then it is doubtful that the young genius would realize his importance to the city founded in the area his family settled. Yet in 1968, that city, Milton Freewater, Ore. would be celebrating the 80th anniversary of their City Light and Power Co., traceable directly to young Brown's ingenuity in 1888.

Born Near Fort

The year was 1864 and the Brown family had been migrating to the west coast via the Oregon Trail. Daniel Frank was born at what is now called Old Coles Crossing on the old road to Fort Walla Walla. The family eventually decided that with a new baby they needed to settle down and plans for California were abandoned. Other settlers followed suit, and in 1872 William S. Frazier laid out the first subdivision for a town, donating one and a half acres of his own land for the community's first hotel. The next year the town received its first post office and officially became known as Milton. William A. Cole was named the first postmaster.

In 1874 young Browns father, Walter Scott Brown, became associated in a planing and shingle mill located along the Walla Walla river about a mile south of where his son had been born. Originally known as Talbert and Brown the mill became known as Browns Chop Mill in 1879 when Brown took over the entire business.

Young Daniel Frank Brown grew up in his fathers business. He was accustomed to the mill and its operations and aware of its possibilities. In 1888 he added hard wood cogs to his fathers wooden water wheel and geared it to a water driven turbine to generate electricity. The device was such a success that young Brown not only had enough electricity to light his fathers mill but he was able to sell the remaining electricity generated to his neighbors.

Not Simple

It wasn't as simple as it seems however. Young Brown had successfully overcome only the first obstacle- that of producing the electricity. His next was to market it. Residents were fearful of the new commodity and often preferred their old oil lamps to the modern lighting device.

Daniel Frank persisted however, continuing in his new venture on his own for two years. In 1890 the Milton City Council passed an ordinance voting $5000 to establish an electric power distribution system and Brown, then only 26 years old, joined the city as its first superintendent. The hand written ordinance, no. 49 in 1889-1894 ordinance book "A" is still legible today.

The pioneer electrical system devised by young Brown is being hailed as the oldest in Oregon and possible the oldest in all the Pacific Northwest. One of the most interesting highlights of young Browns pioneer electrical system was its method for selecting clientele and charging for electricity. A family could not receive electricity unless it received a favorable vote of the city council. Once homes were wired to receive electricity families paid not for the amount of electricity used but for the number of light cords that dropped from the ceilings in their home. In those early years electricity was offered only during the hours between 5 a.m. and 11 p.m.

It's a far cry from the modern electrical system Milton-Freewater residents take for granted today but it was a beginning and each bit of progress must have a beginning.

10. HENRY BROWN³ CATE (LEVARA² BROWN, DANIEL P¹) was born 30 Jun 1870 in Cate Farm, Near Amherst, Wisconsin, and died 27 Jul 1956 in Anchorage, Alaska. He married MAUDE PRATT. She was born Abt. 1879 in Jackson, Michigan, and died Abt. 1945.

Obituary

Henry B. Cate

Henry B. Cate, 86, last surviving child of the late George W. Cate, early-day circuit judge and congressman from this county, died Friday in his sleep in Anchorage, Alaska.

Mr. Cate, a former resident of Amherst and Stevens Point, made his home in Prescott, Ariz., but was visiting a son, Henry P., in Anchorage.

He had lived in Arizona since 1906, before it became a state. A pharmacist there for many years, he was well known for his work with the Little Theater Group in Phoenix, where he resided most of his life. Mr. Cate was born on the Cate farm near Amherst on June 30, 1870. His father, a pioneer lawyer, was elected circuit judge in 1854 and served until 1875, when he was elected to Congress on the Democratic ticket. After serving one term, he returned to Stevens Point and practiced law. Judge Cate was the last Portage County resident to serve as a member of Congress.

After Mr. Cate moved to Arizona, he was married to Maude Pratt, who died in 1945. In 1947, he returned to Stevens Point and lived with a sister Miss Ruth Cate, at 1026 Clark St. Miss Cate sold her home in 1949 and the two moved to Arizona. In 1951 Miss Cate returned here. She died last Nov. 15.

For the past year, Mr. Cate had lived in the Pioneers Home in Prescott. He left for Alaska to visit his son on July 13.

The Phoenix Gazette, in its account of Mr. Cate's death, referred to him as the "dean of the Valley's legitimate theater." He was said to be "the oldest member of the oldest continuing Little Theater Group in the United States, and during his service with the organization served as "janitor, actor, costumer, prop man and ticket taker.:

He was active in building the group's present playhouse, served on the board of directors for 15 years and was president for one term.

Mr. Cate was active in Masonic and Episcopalian circles.

he is survived by two sons, William, Malibu, Calif., and Henry P.; two grandsons, and one granddaughter. Mrs. Harold Bergholte of 208 Wyatt Ave., a cousin, is the only local relative.

Preceding him in death were two brothers, Albert, of Arizona, and Lynn, Stevens Point, and five sisters, Mrs William Cronyn, Milwaukee. Mrs. G. M. Dahl, New York, and Misses Ruth, Annie and Ida, Stevens Point.

The body will be taken to Phoenix, where the A. L. Morroe and Sons Mortuary is in charge of funeral arrangements Cremation and interment will follow in Phoenix.
