Elderly Farmer and Daughter Beaten Up

Polson, Aug. 30-- An elderly farmer and his married daughter were severely beaten with a singletree as they lay in their beds last night and investigation today disclosed, authorities said, an apparent plan to set the house afire.

David Archer was lodged in the county jail to face a charge of first degree assault, County Attorney A.J. Brower said.

Called by neighbors, officers found Tom Bergevin, about 65, and his daughter, wife of the man in custody, suffering from heavy blows about the head and body. A motive for the attack had not been determined.

On the front porch of Bergevin's farm home, a few miles south of Polson, the officers discovered a three and one-half gallon can filled with gasoline.

County Attorney Brower said investigation revealed that Archer, who slept in a tent just outside the house, entered his wife's bedroom, beat her into unconsciousness and then attacked her father. Mrs. Archer regained consciousness and went outside, hiding in weeds.

Help Asked

Neighbors who called officers said Archer related a story of how a man entered the Bergevin house and beat the father and daughter. Archer asked for help they said.

The Archers have several children. An infant asleep alongside Mrs. Archer was not harmed.

Archer is to defend charges of Assault

Polson, Aug. 31 -- Two informations charging first degree assault with intent to kill were filled today against David Archer, accused of beating his wife and her father with a singletree.

Archer waived preliminary hearing in justice court. Unable to furnish the $2,500 bond fixed in each case, he was placed in the custody of the sheriff. He will be arraigned here September 18 before District Judge Theodore Lentz.

County Attorney A. J. Brower said he believed the attacks could be traced to domestic and financial troubles.

Mrs. Archer and her father, Tom Bergevin, about 65, were found in the latter's farm house yesterday suffering from the effects of severe blows about the head and body.

Helena Independent, The (Helena, Montana) > 1934 > September > 19, page 1

Plea of Not Guilty entered for Archer

Polson, Sept. 18 -- David Archer pleaded not guilty today to two charges of assault in the first degree with attempt to kill and was bound over to a jury term by District Judge Theodore Lentz under bonds of $3,000 on each count.

He is accused of attacking and severely beating his wife and his father-in-law, Tom Bergevin, 70, with a single tree as they slept in their ranch home near here early the morning of August 13, Both were beaten unconscious.

Says Mate Hit her with Single-tree; asks for Divorce

The "single-tree" divorce action of Mrs. Neva Archer against David Archer, Lake county, was placed before the supreme court on appeal yesterday.

Mrs. Archer charged her husband beat her with a single-tree, and threatened her with a gun, and said he would "get the whole bunch," meaning her father, her and their four daughters.

The Lake county district court denied a motion for change of venue and appeal was taken.

High Court Reverses Lake District Bench

The state supreme court yesterday reversed the Lake county district court, holding the divorce action brought by Neva Archer against David Archer, both formerly of Fort Benton, should be tried in Chouteau county.

The woman sued for divorce, custody of minor children and maintenance, in Lake county district court in March, 1937. Archer contended the suit should be tried in Chouteau county, but the Lake county court denied his motion for change of venue.

Athena Mayor Son of Pioneer of This Area

ATHENA -- Mayor Philip Remillard was born at old Frenchtown (subject of these pages Aug 27) to Philip and Leona (Bergevin) Remillard in 1901.

"Father was the first Remillard in the Walla Walla Valley" the mayor says " He came here from Ontario as a young man.:

All of Mayor Remillard's schooling was obtained in Walla Walla County Schools. First was at the old St Vincent Academy and the La Salle School for Boys. He attended Prescott High School but didn't finish as he entered farming with his father in that area instead of completing school.

But, then during those World War I days, more youngsters probably went into jobs of one kind or another than went to higher schooling, the mayor opined.

Remillard moved to Yakima and was there until 1928 with his parents. Here he was a mechanic and auto parts man. In 1928 the family moved to Athena where the father and son partnership again came into being on a farming venture for some 10 years.

Braden Store

"Clarence Braden (of Walla Walla) opened a branch store here in Athena and I went to work for him.: said Remillard. After a year he became manager and served in that capacity for 15 years.

"Then I sort of free-lanced a little in machinery," he said, 'buying and selling around the area."

The last three years before he decided to retire (a year ago) he was bookkeeper and office manager for the A & A Elevator Co.

In 1934, Mayor Remillard was married to the former Francis Dupuis of Adams. The couple has twin daughters, now 21.

Remillard was active in the Lions Club when it was formed here and is a member of the Athena Chamber of Commerce and the Umatilla County Roads Advisory Committee.

Long a Hunter

Big game huntin in the Blue Mountains has been a pursuit of many years for Remillard. . . "never miss a season.: His favorite area has been from Tollgate to the Washington State line. A custom (where possible of course) of killing his deer or elk at a point above him earned for him the nick'name of "Shot-em-down-the-hill.:

"The late herb Clark gave me that name." said Remillard.

Now at 66, Remillard admits the 1966 season might have been his last. "It comes a bit hard now," he says. He might be abanding big game hunting but not some other aspects of outdoor living. now owning a pleasure boat, Remillard finds many occasions to get out on the Snake, Columbia or other lakes in the region for steelhead and salmon fishing.

The steelheading are out of the Umatilla Boat Marina is a favorite spot of his and he has also been casting eyes up toward the Grande Ronde and Renaha Rivers around Troy.

Elected in 1962

Remillard was elected mayor the first time in 1962 and has since been re-elected in 1964 and 1066. He succeeded Cal Hanlon who had been mayor for many years here. Remillard had served two terms on the council before being named mayor.

Councilmen include: Charles Simpson (he is also superintendent of schools here), Don Weber, melvin Schmidtgall, A. J. Wernsing and Mrs. Lyle Hinkins. Recorder is C.B. Dugger; Dean Pinkerton is city treasurer and George Miller is marshal and maintenance man for the city.

Mrs. Wade (Erma Jo) Bergevin likes her city. Perhaps that is why she is always trying to do something for it.

A native of Waitsburg, who graduated from Whitman College because "my parents thought it might be best if I attended a small school," Mrs. Bergevin has lived most of her life in Walla Walla. (She taught high school at Adams, Ore., before her marriage and was secretary to the chief of military personnel at a Maryland armed forces base during World War II.)

The Bergevin Children, Janet, a merchandise supervisor for Frederick and Nelson Co. in Seattle, and Marcia (Mrs. Bill Katica) who teaches in Tacoma, graduated from Walla Walla High School, before going on to college.
