Notes for CLAYBORN JACKSON MOSS:

An Illustrated History of Umatilla County by Colonel William Parsons and of Morrow County by W. S. Shiach with a brief outline of the early history of the State of Oregon. W. H. Lever, Publisher 1902. page: 347

C. J. MOSS - The industrious and enterprising orchardist and agriculturist whose name heads this article is one of the substantial citizens and representative men of this section of Umatilla County, having passed almost his entire life within its precincts, receiving here his education and gaining here his brilliant successes in the business world.

He was born to James T. and Serelda (Crowley) Moss, on September 16, 1861, in the state of Missouri, but was brought by his parents to this county four years later. They settled near the state line, south from Walla Walla, where our subject remained until he had reached his majority. At that time he launched out into business for himself, buying a farm ten miles north from Milton, where he tilled the soil for five years, then sold out and bought the old home place. Upon this he lived until three years ago, when he sold that also and bought property in Milton, where he now lives. Here he has a fine fruit orchard of five acres of excellent farm land east of town, which is well improved with everything necessary to its successful operation.

The marriage of Mr Moss and Eva E Garred occurred on March 24, 1889. Mrs Moss is the daughter of William and Lucretia (Howard) Demaris, and has one son, Dallas Garred, by her first husband. Mr and Mrs Moss are members of the Christian church in Milton and are very active in its affairs and the advancement of its interests. He is a member of the A.O.U.W., and the Pioneers of the Pacific, and the Masons. He has ever been active in political matters and is now serving on the city council, his ability and integrity being recognized by his constituency, whom he never disappoints by failure to give wise and efficient service.

His father died in October, 1892, and his mother in December, 1882, being among the oldest and most honored pioneers of this valley.

PIONEER CELEBRATES -- Charles E. Demaris, pioneer of the Milton district, observed his 90th birthday Wednesday. Mr and Mrs. Demaris celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary on October of 1947

CHARLES DEMARIS CELEBRATES HIS 90TH NATAL DATE

Milton-Freewater -- (Special) -- Charles E. Demaris was honored Wednesday at his home, 16 S.E. 11th Ave. here, the occasion having been his 90th birthday. He has lived his life entirely in the Walla Walla valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Demaris have lived here 17 years after nearly 50 years of wheat farming.

Congratulations were in order from his family and friends together with gifts and greetings. Those present enjoyed portions of the 90-candle lighted cake.

Demaris attributes his living enjoyment to "outdoor life."

Charles' obituary reads as follows:

UMATILLA'S OLDEST 'SON' DIES AT 97

Milton-Freewater (Special) -- Charles E. Demaris of Milton-Freewater, Umatilla's oldest native son, died Monday at his home here at age 97.

The colorful pioneer was honored at Pendleton on his 95th birthday, in 1959, as the oldest living resident born in the county. He was born Feb. 10, 1864, at the family home six miles east of Milton-Freewater.

He was the son of William and Lucretia Demaris, Umatilla County pioneers. Demaris's father died when he was one year old while the family was living in Walla Walla. The family home was located where the Book Nook now stands. After living in Walla Walla for eight years his mother remarried and they moved, homesteading on the Walla Walla River. As a boy he delivered goods for Beck and Winans, which was located where Gardner Co. now stands.

On Oct. 18, 1887 Demaris married Mary Florence Wallace in Walla Walla. They made the home of his youth on the Walla Walla River their home. The little log cabin was their home for 13 years, after which it was abandoned when they built a new one.

Demaris had led a colorful life which included appearances as a jockey on the old Walla Walla race track, wheat raising and many activities in community affairs.

At the age of 12 he was employed as night herder for the horses used by crews of men engaged in getting out ties in the Blue Mountains for the various western railroads.

After his marriage he took up wheat farming and operated on a large scale, having had a prominent role in the growth of this branch of agricultural activity along the foothills of the Blue Mountains. In 1939 he retired from the ranch life and moved to Milton-Freewater at the old home known as the Stone property at 16 S.E. 11th Ave, Milton-Freewater.

On Oct. 18, 1937, the Demarises were honored by their friends with a 50th wedding anniversary observance. Mrs. Demaris died Feb. 13, 1954.

Demaris had been a member of the Milton-Freewater Christian Church since 1893. He also was a member of the Milton-Freewater Masonic Lodge and received his 50-year Masonic pin eight years ago.

Demaris is survived by two daughters, Mrs. J.J. (Mabel) Merrifield and Miss Blanche Demaris, both of Milton-Freewater; four grandchildren, Gilbert Merrifield, Mrs. Howard Murray, both of Milton-Freewater, Mrs. Dee Poole, of Seattle, and Dorsey William, Jr. of Sacramento; three great-grandchildren; one great-great-grandson and one nephew, Dallas Garred of Walla Walla. A son, Dorsey Demaris, died in 1949.

Funeral services will be at 2p.m. Thursday at the Milton-Freewater Christian Church with the Rev. George Knox officiating. Interment will be in the Milton Cemetery, with the Milton Masonic Lodge conducting the graveside services.
