Notes for GEORGE W. STAGGS:

An illustrated history of the state of Oregon : By Rev H K Hines, D.D., Chicago, The Lewis Publishing company, 1893

GEORGE W. STAGGS, one of the young and enterprising business men of Weston, was born in Yam Hill County, Oregon, December 20, 1862. His father, Alfred Staggs, is a native of Kentucky, who married Miss Sarah Davis, a native of Missouri. Mr. Staggs emigrated to Oregon in 1852 with his brother. They fitted up an ox team and started on the long journey to the coast. The brother was taken sick and died. His lonely, unnamed grave is on the plains, where his sorrowing relatives were obliged to leave his remains, among the savage Indians. Mr. Staggs was a brickmaker by trade, but in later years he abandoned it for the occupation of farming. He was married in Oregon, and he and his faithful wife lived together until 1872, when death claimed his own and called the beloved wife to her last home, at the age of forty-two. They had five children, and George was the fourth. Only three of these children are now living, two in Idaho and our subject in Oregon.

George received his early education in the common schools of Oregon, and was reared on the farm and to farm work. He followed that occupation until 1888, when he continues to farm in connection with his other business interests. On this farm he grows wheat principally.

In August, 1892, he engaged in the hardware business in Weston, where he carries a stock of $5,000, consisting of all kinds of hardware and agricultural implements. He does a good business for a newcomer in the town, and, as he is well known and liked throughout the entire county, he will command a large trade in time.

Mr. Staggs was married, in 1872, to Miss Martha Pinkerton, daughter of William and Sarah Pinkerton. This lady is also a native of Oregon, and has borne her husband two children, namely: Emery and Beulah, two bright children, who render happy the lives of their parents. Mr. Staggs is a member of the Modern Woodmen of the World, Camp No. 112, of Weston; also a member of K. of P. He votes the Republican ticket, and is a thoroughly respected and representative citizen of Oregon.
