Death Claims Harry N Dyer

Harry N Dyer, who came to Walla Walla in 1900 and has lived here continuously since that time, died Saturday afternoon at the home of his son Robert C Dyer, 1539 Defense, following a long illness. During many of his years of residence here, Dyer had been an inspector with the state horticulture department and had been active in agriculture research in the district.

he was born August 17, 1891 in Braxton county, West Virginia and came to Walla Walla with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Addison C Dyer when he was nine years old.

he was married to Edith Munn of Walla Walla December 14, 1914. After their marriage they built a home on a portion of the original family farm where they lived until June , 1945.

As a young man Dyer worked at the Malcolm-McLean Grocery store, later as a warehouse inspector for Walla Walla Gardeners' association and the Valley Fruit company. In 1923 he was appointed deputy horticultural inspector for the Washington state department of agriculture, division of horticulture in the local office under Wendell P. Brown. He was almost continuously employed until his recent illness, making his tenure of office one of the longest in the state department. he served under ten district horticultural inspectors. He had the reputation of being an outstanding horticulturist and was widely known among fruit and vegetable growers and horticulturist and was widely known among fruit and vegetable growers and horticulturists in Southeastern Washington and Northeastern Oregon.

He is survived by his wife Edith, Walla Walla, two sons Lt. Harold K Dyer with he army in Austria and Robert C Dyer, Walla Walla. He was a member of Pioneer Methodist church.
