BIOGRAPHY of MRS. IDA MAY WOLFE

Mrs. Ida May WOLFE, widely and favorably known in Walla Walla county, is a representative of one of the oldest pioneer families. She resides on section 35, township 8 north, range 36 east, where she owns a valuable farming property. She was born on the site of the present city of Dayton and is a daughter of Oliver C. and Mary E. (MEALEY) GALLAHER. Her mother was a daughter of Dr. MEALY, who was one of the noted men of his day. Her father crossed the plains in 1845, when few white men had penetrated into the vast wilderness of the northwest. He drove across the hot stretches of sand over the mountain passes and at length reached the Willamette valley of Oregon, where he took up a donation claim. At that time the city of Portland had no existence and the work of progress and improvement had scarcely been begun in all the vast northwest. He resided in the Willamette valley until the spring of 1862, when he came to Walla Walla county and took up his abode in the Walla Walla valley, where he resided until the time of his death. His entire life was devoted to farming and he contributed much to the early agriculture development of this section of the country. His efforts were an important factor in promoting progress and improvement in the Inland Empire and he was among those who laid broad and deep the foundation upon which is built the present prosperity and progress of the county. His political allegiance was always given to the republican party and he took an active and helpful interest in politics, recognizing the duties and obligations as well as the privileges of citizenship. In a word, he left the impress of his individuality for good upon the development of this section of the state and his memory is yet revered and honored by many who knew him in the early days. In his family were six children, three of whom are now living.

His daughter, Mrs. WOLFE, was reared and educated in Walla Walla county and is familiar with many phases of pioneer life here. In 1883 she became the wife of W.H. BUROKER, a pioneer of this county, having come here in 1864. Through their united thrift and industry they acquired a large and valuable property which at the death of Mr. BUROKER in 1902 was equally divided among the legal heirs. To Mr. and Mrs. BUROKER were born five children: Zenna, the wife of L.O. McINROE, Ina J., the wife of Frank McINROE, of Walla Walla county; Forrest L., who is a resident farmer of Walla Walla county; one who is deceased; and Mary E., the wife of R.W. RIGSBY. Several years after the death of her first husband Mrs. BUROKER became the wife of L. R. WOLFE in 1906. Her father died on the 29th of May 1916, having long survived his wife, who passed away about thirty-nine years ago. They were both laid to rest in this county.

Mrs. WOLFE is now the owner of several hundred acres of fine land which has been brought under a high state of cultivation and returns splendid crops annually, thus providing the family with a very substantial income. Mr. WOLFE belongs to the Independent Order of Odd Fellows and to the Knights of Pythias and Mrs. WOLFE is connected with the Rebekah lodge, the ladies auxiliary of the Odd Fellows. She is also a consistent and faithful member of the Methodist Episcopal church and takes a very active and helpful part in church work, contributing generously to its support.
