C. L. 'Buck' Lieuallen Dies at 69

PENDLETON (AP) -- C. L. "Buck" Lieuallen, whose exploits as bronco-buster, law enforcement officer and legislator were almost a stereotype of the Old West, died Saturday at the age of 69. Funeral services will be Tuesday in Pendleton.

Lieuallen became widely known in the West when, as a state patrolman in 1927, he helped capture Albert Edward Hickman who was wanted for the kidnap-slaying of little Marian Parker, 11, Los Angeles.

Lieuallen and Tom Gurdane, Pendleton police chief, nabbed Hickman near Ione. The case was so celebrated they went on the Pantages vaudeville circuit for two weeks to tell about the capture. The City of Los Angeles offered a $10,000 reward for Hickman's capture but efforts to collect it failed when the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals ruled the city lacked authority to pay it.

Lieuallen helped work his way through school breaking horses to ride. he once rode No Name, a famous buckner, on the invitation of jesting friends who did not tell him what horse it was. Lieuallen rode it until it stopped bucking.

In 1936 he was elected mayor and served three terms, then went to the legislature as Umatilla County representative. He served five terms.

He established a reputation in high school as an athlete and in World War I service in the Navy won the heavyweight wrestling championship at San Diego and the heavyweight boxing championship of his ship, the USS Charleston.

He was fond of recalling the time he threw a touchdown pass to John Kilkenny, now U.S. District Court Judge. At the time they were playing for the town football team at Heppner.

In recent years he had operated a horse breeding ranch with his son Frank, a Pendleton veterinarian, and spent much time working with fatherless boys.

PROSSER - After a long bout with Alzheimer's, Henrietta Vollmer Bayne, Mother, Grandmother, and Great-Grandmother, died peacefully at Prosser Memorial Long Term Care Facility on April 9, 2006. Well known for her musical talents and wit, Mrs. Bayne will be gratefully remembered by family and friends.

Born February 9, 1917 to a pioneer family, William and Mae Shaffer Vollmer in Waitsburg, Washington, the youngest of 3 children, Henrietta grew up on the family farm located on Whiskey Creek. She graduated from Waitsburg High School and was a Farmerette at the Walla Walla County Fair. After graduating from high school, she attended Washington State College, (now WSU) and pledged Delta Delta Delta Sorority. She regaled everyone with the story of the handsome young man that she met, a Whitman graduate, who had a job, and drove a new Studebaker. The two fell in love and for over 48 years of marriage "Henry" and Glen L., until his untimely death in 1985, would share this adventure we call "life".

Mrs. Bayne was a long time member of the First Baptist Church in Prosser. For years she played the piano and the electric organ purchased for the church by her father. She also was a member of the AntiRust Book Club, Chapter K, P.E.O., and the Walla Walla Chapter of the Eastern Star. Her talent of being able to play music by ear, allowed her to accompany and play remembered tunes on request.

Henrietta was preceded in death by her parents, both of her brothers, William and Charles, her husband Glen L., and a grandson, Scott Bayne. Survivors include: daughter Mary Hunziker (R.J.) of Prosser, two sons Douglas L. (Karen) of Walla Walla, David H. (Irene) of Prosser, 10 grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.
